

Schuler leads poll as campaign nears end; candidates in weekend 'stretch'

As the candidates are keenly aware, the April 7 election is only five days away and most candidates are wearing the shoe leather thin in these final days going door-to-door to meet the voters.

Final preparations for the election at the Press-Record have included the completion of our final poll in which we asked, "Who should be the next mayor of Granite City?"

If our random poll is accurate, and we make no claims of scientific accuracy, Mayor Paul Schuler has gained slightly over the second candidate, Daniel Partney, 62.2 percent to 32 percent of those expressing a preference, while the number of undecided voters has been cut in half since our last poll, conducted March 4.

Of 100 voters contacted by telephone yesterday, 76 were willing to discuss the election, but only 68 of those plan to vote April 7.

Fifteen persons, or 22 percent of those planning to vote, told us they have not yet made up their minds which mayoral candidate they prefer. In our March 4 survey, 44 percent of those contacted said they were undecided on the mayor's race.

Alderman Warren Decatur's failed to gain significantly between the two Press-Record polls. Only four percent of those contacted March 4 planned to vote for Decatur while 5.6 percent favored him this week.

Thirty-three of the 53 willing to express a favorite supported Schuler for re-election while 17 said they would vote for Partney. Three favored Decatur.

In the March 4 poll, Schuler was supported by 60 percent of those expressing a preference while 36 percent favored Partney.

We also asked, "What do you feel is the most important task for the next administration?" Of those having preferences, most (25) said they feel finding more jobs for city residents ranks high, followed closely by reducing crime (21), particularly involving juveniles.

Sixteen said they would like to see a cleaner city, particularly cleaner and better streets. (It should be pointed out that the mayor has little control over the cleaning and maintenance of streets, which is controlled by a street superintendent who is elected independently of the mayor.)

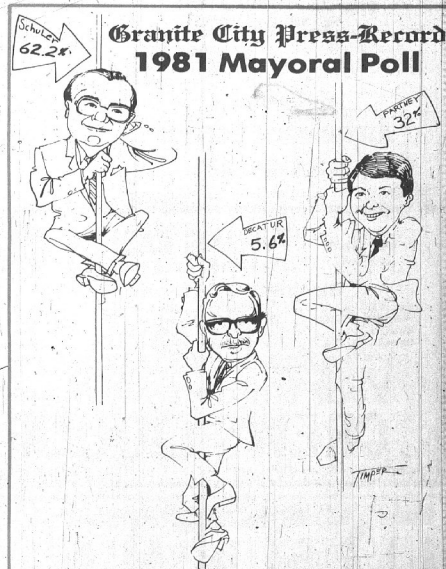

Only five felt that reducing city taxes deserves high priority at this time, but one said the city budget should be reduced. Another wanted to keep industry in the city, before it becomes a "ghost town."

Some wanted cleaner streets, but one woman just wanted "cleaner campaigns." One woman, a city resident since 1918, said the people should "work together like they used to."

While the Press-Record does not claim the accuracy or reliability of a Harris Poll or utilize the scientific methods of professionals, caution was used to be sure an adequate number of persons from West Granite, North Granite, Glenview, the Fourth Ward and other areas of the city were contacted.

Those interviewed were selected at random from lists of telephone numbers and, we believe, the closeness of the results between the two polls give some indication that the methods used are consistent, for example Schuler's 60 percent on March 4 and 62.2 percent this month, and Partney's 36 percent in March and 32 percent in the latest poll. All three candidates say the next five days will be spent campaigning door-to-door, with few exceptions.

Partney said he is planning continual walking and talking and will be (Continued on Page 10)

Nation charting a steady course despite wounding of the president

By ENLIGHTENED of the Press-Record

Monday morning (March 30) news...President Ronald Reagan will visit the Illinois state capital on Wednesday.

Monday afternoon news...President Reagan has been shot in the chest on a Washington, D.C., street.

Monday evening news...Vice President George Bush said on the plane returning him to Washington, I find it utterly incomprehensible that anybody could work up sufficient malice against Pres. Reagan to want him dead. Later, addressing the nation, Mr. Bush said: "I want to reassure a watching world that the American government is functioning fully and effectively. I'm going now to visit with Mrs. Reagan."

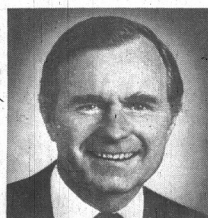

This week's tragic assassination attempt, from which the 70-year-old president is recovering rapidly, vividly brings to mind a mid-March reception attended by the president, his wife, Nancy, the vice-president and his writer among others.

The feeling that night was that the national spirit of state has a calm, steady leader at its helm. That feeling continues even after the close brush with death suffered by the president, his press secretary, a policeman and a Secret Service agent.

There may be far fewer events in the future at which Mr. Reagan makes himself so easily accessible to the public. But security seemed only a remote concern in mid-March as the first family's guests assembled in response to the most coveted social request they could have hoped to receive.

PRESIDENT RONALD REAGAN

The mailgram related, "The President and Mrs. Reagan cordially invite you to attend a reception."

"At the White House. Please enter the Southwest Gate. RSVP. This invitation is non-transferable." The communication brought to mind an image of what it might be like for a former Army sergeant to see the nation's commander-in-chief, extending a hand of friendship in his role as host at the executive mansion.

A few evenings later, pleasant reality had replaced such speculation for a portion of those in Washington to attend the 20th annual government affairs conference of the National Newspaper Association.

They walked in bright sunlight, shortly before 5 p.m., toward the Truman balcony at the south portico of the White House. It was cold and windy, but no one was thinking about the weather.

Entering through a ground floor doorway, they checked their coats immediately after passing a young woman harpist playing "Ebbtide." Ascending a stairway to the area of the main entrance of the White House, they encountered a Marine Corps instrumental group. The four young men were wearing their colorful dress uniforms and were playing "Moonlight in Vermont."

From there, it was only a short stroll down a wide corridor to the relatively spacious East Room, which proved to be a bit small for the animated gathering of more than 300.

11 complaints against GC trailer court filed

Eleven city complaints were filed in circuit court Tuesday afternoon against the Shelton Trailer Court, East 23rd Street and Nameki Road, by Granite City officials.

The complaints allege that the court and mobile homes do not have proper zoning, have inadequate electrical wiring, violate ordinances calling for pads or piers, some do not have tight skirting and other violations.

An investigation of the park was ordered March 24 by Mayor Paul Schuler after the resident of a nearby home complained of overflowing garbage, rats, fire hazards and other alleged violations in the mobile home park.

Schuler ordered the city inspector and city engineers to have the inspectors for buildings, electrical, plumbing, and other city officials at the mobile home park at 10 a.m. the following day for a complete inspection.

Each inspector and official turned in a written report to City Attorney John Papa, who then prepared the 11 complaints, which were signed by Emerald Dawes and Building Inspector Tony Rusick.

The 11 complaints follow:

1) "Failed to maintain the park in a sanitary and clean condition in that the dumpster provided for garbage and waste collection are in insufficient size and number and rubbish has been allowed to accumulate around and under trailers."

2) "Located and operated a trailer camp in which a distance of 20 feet is not maintained between buildings, between trailers and that no trailer meets this requirement."

3) "Located and operated a mobile home park with mobile homes in which skirting is not constructed in such a manner that it will not provide a harborage for rodents nor create a fire hazard."

4) "Operated a mobile home park containing mobile homes in which no mobile home was supplied with a 220 volt A.C. service of no less than 100 amperes and which no existing service was maintained in accordance with the applicable electrical code and regulations, as contained in the city's building code."

5) "Located and operated a mobile home park containing mobile homes which were not placed on a pad constructed of Portland cement not less than six inches in thickness, 10 feet wide and 40 feet in length or concrete piers on a solid concrete footing of a size and kind approved by the building inspector."

6) "Located and operated a mobile home park, governed by the mobile home park regulations as set out in the Illinois State Statutes, without obtaining a state license as required by Chapter 111½, Section 713."

7) "Located and used a trailer camp at 2301 Nameki Road, an area which is zoned as C-1 (commercial), without having first obtained a special permit for such location and use."

8) "Located and operated a mobile home park in which all plumbing services and sanitary plumbing do not comply with the Illinois Plumbing Code in that units one, two, four, seven, 12 and 16, sewage is allowed to spill onto and accumulate on the ground surface."

9) "Located and operated a mobile home park in which no mobile homes meet the tie-down requirements of the table in Chapter 15.40.100."

10) "Failed to provide the fire extinguishers which were periodically examined and in condition ready for use, in that, of the fire extinguishers provided, one was last examined in

Forum Deadline

Letters to the Editor in the Press-Record Forum, presenting comments on the April 7 election will not be accepted after 10 a.m. tomorrow, April 3, in the Press-Record news room.

The letters published Monday, April 6, must be brief and must not contain entirely new political charges which due to their timing cannot be answered by the candidates prior to the voting.

We thank voters and candidates for their views on the issues that have been raised in the election campaign.

Cruse to keep office open Saturday

The office of Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse will be open Saturday for those who have not yet signed up for an assessment reduction under Senate Bill 1790, which is designed to offset part or all of the assessment increases caused by rising assessments and multipliers.

The deadline for filing is Wednesday, April 8 in all townships.

All homeowners and buyers residing in their own homes are eligible to qualify for a reduction of up to $3,000 to offset new higher assessments. If pending legislation passes, that amount will increase to $4,500, retroactive to the 1980 assessment, Cruse said. He noted that approximately 6,300 homeowners in Granite City Township have signed up for the reduction this year, but approximately 2,500 more homes qualify and the owners should sign up by the April 8 deadline.

Cruse said his office is open weekdays and this Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to accept signatures. "All a homeowner needs to bring is his signature. We have everything else here," Cruse concluded.

Residents of Nameki, Chouteau and Venice, townships who have not yet signed up for the assessment reduction should call their township assessors to sign up before the deadline.

Nameoki officials find revenue sharing requests exceed funds

It would take some magic for Nameoki Township officials to please everyone when it comes to the distribution of federal revenue sharing funds in the new fiscal year, the town board of trustees discovered during a public hearing on suggested uses for the funds Tuesday night.

The township has $20,000 remaining unspent in that fund and anticipates receiving about $44,500 during the year, making a total of about $64,500 available for projects.

However, the projects recommended at the public hearing far surpass that amount. The largest single recommendation is to continue the present environmental cleanup (limb and large trash pickup) and health programs, which would cost about $30,000 to continue at their present levels.

Other requests include $8,500 in financial assistance for the Nameoki Volunteer Police, about $4,500 to continue financial backing for ambulance service in the township and continued funding for the senior citizens' van, including picking up the salary of the driver when Manpower halts that funding. Most are considered important if the present level of township services is to continue.

New projects requesting funds include the extension of city water mains to Eagle Park Acres, an engineering study for an addition to the State Park Place fire house, a $3,000 study of Eagle Park which is needed to apply for grants, a street sweeper, new street signs for Arlington Heights and new photocopy and stamp machines badly needed in the township hall.

It is apparent that $64,500 will fall far short of meeting all of the requests and the town board faces the difficult task in the next few weeks of deciding which are the priority items and which will have to wait until next year.

It was noted that 11 senior citizens in the audience were able to attend the meeting because the township van, which is supported by revenue sharing funds, picked them up at their homes and returned them home after the meeting.

INSTALLATION

William Fever, assistant principal of Prather Junior High School, is to be installed at 6 p.m. Saturday as the new president of Gateway East Chapter, Phi Delta Kappa. The event will be held in Walton's Restaurant, Belleville. Owen Humphrey of Granite City will be installed as historian and Wade E. James, Madison assistant school superintendent, will be installed as Foundation representative.

COUNCIL LEADERS HONORED

Gordon Gass and Martha McIlroy, Granite City, and Frankie Griggs, Madison, were among those honored at the Extension-Council Recognition Banquet held last week in Edwardsville. Gass and Mrs. McIlroy received certificates for completing two years on the Agriculture and Home Economics Councils, respectively, and Mrs. Griggs received a desk plaque for four years on the Home Economics Council. The Extension Councils are empowered by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees to provide direction and guidance to the county Cooperative Extension Service programs.

Interview candidates for provost

The on-campus visitation and interview schedule for another semifinalist in the group of candidates seeking the position of vice-president and provost at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was announced this week by the search committee.

Dr. John King Gamble Jr., head of the Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences for Pennsylvania State University-Berthel College, will arrive today for a two-day series of meetings with faculty, staff and students. Dr. Ronald Applebaum, dean of the School of Humanities for California State University at Long Beach, was on the local campus Monday and Tuesday for visits and interviews with various constituencies.

Annette Baich, professor in the department of biological sciences of the SIUE School of Science and Technology and chairman of the search committee, said it is continuing to conduct preliminary interviews with candidates at their current places of employment.

She said the complete list of semifinalists who will be invited to SIUE cannot be announced until the visits to the candidates' home campuses have been completed.

The 12-member committee eventually will submit the names of five recommended candidates to President Earl Lazerson. He will select his choice from the five and make his recommendation to the chancellor and Board of Trustees for appointment as vice-president and provost.

20-year prison term for fatal stabbing

J.B. Hayes Jr., 18, of the 2200 block of Lee Avenue, was sentenced Tuesday to serve 20 years in prison after being found guilty of murder in the fatal wounding of James Naylor, 23, of the 2300 block of Illinois Avenue, with a butcher knife July 10, 1980.

Madison County Circuit Judge Philip Rarick found Hayes guilty March 2 of the crime following a bench trial. During that trial, testimony indicated that Hayes threw a butcher knife at Mr. Naylor which caused a liver injury and the victim died within moments of being struck.

A co-defendant in the case,

John Arnett, 19, of Granite City, earlier pleaded guilty to aggravated battery in the case and was sentenced to serve three and one-half years in prison. He admitted during Hayes' trial that he provoked the fight by lying to Hayes and other friends, saying that Naylor had cut his hand.

Hayes, Arnett and another youth armed themselves with knives and went to the 2200 block of Lee Avenue where the fatal confrontation occurred, according to testimony at the trial.

Hayes admitted to Judge Rarick that he had thrown the knife, but said he did not mean to kill Mr. Naylor. He said he thought the victim was about to point a pistol at him. Police said Mr. Naylor was not armed.

Health fair here to offer screening and referrals

On Monday, April 6, the first of over 40 health fairs will open in the metropolitan area, offering health education, screening follow-up and referral service to anyone over 18 years of age. The Health Fairs taking place April 6-12 are part of a nationwide effort to provide the general public with basic health information.

The fairs have the endorsement of the area medical and dental societies, metropolitan hospital association, and podiatric society. Major participants include 23 hospitals, 10 nursing schools, allied health programs, several churches, senior citizen centers, five shopping malls and three universities.

The fair at St. Elizabeth Medical Center is set for 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday, April 9, and Friday, April 10. All fairs will offer screening for weight, anemia, visual acuity and blood pressure as well as health evaluation. In addition, many sites will offer screening for glaucoma, oral cancer, foot problems, colorectal cancer, hearing and lung capacity.

For a $6 fee, 33 sites are offering a blood chemistry screening that will provide information on liver, kidney and thyroid function, glaucoma, cholesterol, triglycerides, and blood proteins.

Participants with significant abnormalities will receive referral information at the health fair, and follow-up services about three months after the fair.

Participants may pickup a health resources guide on the bi-state area at the health fairs.

More than 500 civic, social welfare and professional organizations representing over 4,000 individual volunteers are participating in the health fairs.

Last year, the fairs screened over 15,000 people during Health Fair Week. This year's goals include surpassing last year's figures as well as increasing and expanding the educational component of the fairs.

World recognition for Dave Lindsay

By BILL WINTER
It's a long way from the Paddlers springboard diving team to an 80 miles an hour, 100-foot-high plunge from a platform handstand, but Dave Lindsay, 24, has made the journey all the way to the national high-diving championship.

A 1976 GCHS North graduate, a former wrestler and gymnast, an Eastern Illinois University (Charleston) springboard diving team member, and now high-diving coach at Daytona Beach (Fla.) Community College, Lindsay will be featured on ABC-TV's Wide World of Sports on Channel 2 at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Extensive network coverage is planned that day and later, televising the 1981 worldwide championship competition held during the past weekend in San Diego, Calif.

Events included a height record contest, with dives of as much as 160 feet. The former local resident, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. (Helen) Lindsay, 3308 Maryville Road, competed in basic diving skills at heights of 70, 90 and 100 feet and also joined with Patty Davis in mixed pair simultaneous diving, finishing second in that category of the world judging. His parents were among those present to cheer him on.

His initial partner, Ann Thompson, was injured during one of the dives at Sea World in San Diego. Even with a jet of water utilized to make the water more visible and the surface perhaps a bit softer to penetrate, the salt water pool proved to be a difficult diving target and there were numerous injuries during the week.

To become champion, Lindsay outscored such widely known contenders as Chip Humphrey (second), Pat Suker (third) and defending champion Dana Kunze (fifth).

Kunze, a four-time champ, and the others are all veterans of the cliff dive at Acapulco, Mexico. The former Granite Cityan has not yet taken part in the Acapulco event but plans to do so in the near future. A "natural talent" who progressed all the way to the world title in record time, Lindsay has been high-diving only since the summer of 1979, when he participated at Sea World in Orlando, Fla. He spent the summer of 1980 performing exhibition dives at Adventure Land in Des Moines, Ia. Next for him will be appearances for the Maxwell diving team in the U. S., Mexico, Europe and perhaps as far away as Hong Kong; included will be a return visit to Des Moines on April 24. He plans to take a leave of absence from his duties at Daytona Beach.

Initially instructed in diving at the Paddlers pool here by Mrs. Gayle McCormick, herself a top-notch diver until sustaining an injury, Lindsay had leaped from no greater height than 30 feet until he filled in for a friend one day at Orlando.

He shows little or no fear of descending from heights that make the pool appear miniature in size, but does concede that he has a healthy respect for the perils involved.

He has performed such feats as diving amid flames, but has not yet seen fit to try for any height records, at least those that exceed 160 feet.

A highlight of his new celebrity status occurred early this week at the award dinner, where he received a plaque symbolic of the world championship.

In addition to that bit of limelight, he also has taped interviews with TV network sportscasters and has demonstrated his diving techniques for ABC-TV. Still more challenges and opportunities will be encountered in the coming months and years, and he is awaiting them eagerly.

But he is not planning to do much practicing of the high-diving art, because there simply are few platforms in existence, and they are in place only a limited number of days each year.

Vikings were colonizers. The Vikings colonized Britain and Ireland, Orkney, the Shetland Islands, the Faeroes, Iceland and Greenland and Scandinavians claim that the Vikings also discovered and settled North America.

SIUE plans job and study linkage

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has established a job locator and career development service that is intended to allow students to gain part-time employment in their chosen career fields long before graduation.

Diana Brewer (telephone 992-3880), assistant director in the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance and coordinator of the Job Locator and Development Program, said the service will bring together students having a degree of knowledge in specialized fields with area businesses that have a need for such people.

Jo Ann Green, job locator, said participation will allow SIUE students to supplement their incomes with temporary employment in their career fields while they are enrolled in full-time academic studies.

These students will also have an opportunity to gain additional knowledge and work experience that go far beyond the realm of textbook and lecture learning, she said. The most important aspect may be the chance to obtain work experience that can greatly enhance their value to a future employer, Mrs. Green added.

Broadway hits at Assumption

Assumption High School, 950 Kingshighway, East St. Louis, will hold the First Nighter, its annual dinner-theater, on Saturday evening, April 25. Sponsored by the Parents Club, it is the largest single fund-raiser for the school.

This year's presentation by the theater department is called "Assumption Apollo Theater '81." The show will combine songs and dances from such recent Broadway hits as "Eubie," "Bubblin' Brown Sugar," "Ain't Misbehavin'" and "Sophisticated Lady."

Plans call for the evening to begin with a social hour at 5:30 p.m. A gourmet dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and the play will follow from 8 to 10. There will be music and dancing afterward.

Cost is $12.50 per person or $25 per couple. Reservations, which are required, may be made by calling the school at 997-2796. The deadline for reservations is April 10.

The class will concentrate on children's thinking at the elementary school level, particularly the visual and mathematical thinking, O'Brien said.

Rev. John Henry Williams FOR VENICE PARK COMMISSIONER PUNCH No. 137

DADDY
HE CARES ABOUT ME
AND I KNOW HE CARES ABOUT YOU!
4 GOALS I WILL FIGHT FOR FIRST...

1. Make sure we have adequate rest rooms.

2. Park have own concession stand or hire someone to have one for the park and put the money back into the park funds.

3. Bring back the carnival in the park, just as we had when I was a child! Our people have been deprived of this.

4. Swimming pool. It is not impossible. A committee of people that live in the park district, consists of youth, middle age, and senior citizens. They will work alone with the Commissioner on raising money and ways to finance the pool. It makes no sense that we have to go to Granite City Y.M.C.A. to swim. Let's try to have our own. The money that we have spent out of Venice through the years, was enough to start on a pool for ourselves. All things are possible with God. We can do it! We will pay for it. The people in Madison, Eagle Park and Lovejoy will help pay for it. Instead of going to Granite City they will come to us. I believe if we try first, someone in Madison County or the State of Illinois will give us a helping hand.

THROUGH THE FLES

50 Years Ago

April 3, 1931

Through the wholesale purchase of foods and fuel by Pearl Smith, purchasing agent for the Madison Relief Association and chairman of the Madison County Board of Supervisors, and the cooperation of grocers and supply houses, a total of 497 families representing 1,907 persons in Madison have been provided with the necessities of life for the past four months for $5,876.31, it is shown in reports made by Smith and the finance committee of the relief organization.

Because of the cost of taking care of so many families the funds of the relief organization have dwindled to $712.20. Originally, it was believed five months would tide everyone over until work was available, but now members of the association have reconciled themselves to a much longer period and are facing and devoting their energies to continuing the work until fall.

25 Years Ago

An aerial "attack" on the gangster-controlled Club Prevue gambling casino was carried out about 10 a.m. Friday by Dick H. Mudge Jr., former fighter pilot, who made four low-flying "passes" over the gaming den building and dropped between 8,000 and 10,000 leaflets with a warning that the place will be closed if he is nominated and elected state's attorney.

The leaflets, which the candidate signed, stated: "To the Club Prevue, alias the Corona Club, or whatever else the racketeers are calling it now: The handwriting is on the wall. Your reign on lawlessness is soon to be ended."

"I promise the Club Prevue and the voters of Madison county that if I am nominated and elected state's attorney, the Club Prevue and all other disreputable and illegal places will be closed."

Ninety days from today, the Granite City Army Depot will cease to exist. The 977-acre federally-owned facility will stand — apparently intact to the casual observer — and remain under Department of the Army jurisdiction until October 1972. Yesterday, 53 employees in the maintenance and supply sections left the local military facility to report next Monday to Tooele Army Depot, near Ogden, Utah.

Man killed, one wounded in shooting

One man was killed and another wounded in a shooting outside a rural Edwardsville residence at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday during an argument involving a girl friend.

Madison County deputies said the dead man is Donald Lee Lyons, 48, Rural Route Six, Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City.

Wounded deputies said, is Robert L. Baker, 51, of Wood River, also a former Granite City resident, who deputies said was shot twice and is in good condition at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital at Maryville.

A 33-year-old Edwardsville man is being held as a suspect in the shooting. No charges have been filed pending further investigation.

Authorities said the suspect was at the home of a girl friend when Lyons and Baker appeared at the house.

A Hartscombe, England, townsman bears this epitaph: "On the 22nd of June, Jonathan Fiddle went out of tune."

on Drda Lane just west of Edwardsville.

Officers said an argument developed between Lyons and the suspect who obtained an automatic 22 caliber rifle.

Lyons was shot approximately seven times although authorities have not yet determined the exact number of wounds. Lyons' body was taken to an Edwardsville funeral home.

MOTORCYCLIST HURT

Clifford Robinson, 34, of 1208 Lynn Ave., was injured when his motorcycle, eastbound in the 2200 block of Terminal Avenue at the curve, skidded on loose gravel and fell. Robinson was issued a ticket for lack of valid registration and was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Robinson was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center after the accident with a fracture to his left shoulder and an injury to his left knee.

Driver charged in hit-run case

Donald A. Bean, 30, Alton, has been charged with reckless conduct, leaving the scene of an accident and criminal trespass to land after he allegedly struck David Greathouse, 50, of 2604 Kirkpatrick Homes, with his car near Greathouse's apartment at 10:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Greathouse alleged that Bean came to his door, argued with him, used obscene language and refused to leave. When Bean left, it is alleged, he used an obscene gesture and threatened to run over Greathouse.

As his auto left at high speed, it struck Greathouse knocking him to the ground and then left the scene, it was alleged.

Greathouse was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was treated for abrasions to his left side and to his shoulders and hip. He was released after treatment.

Bean surrendered at the Granite City Police Department at 4:35 p.m. Wednesday and the three has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident and criminal trespass to land after he allegedly struck David Greathouse, 50, of 2604 Kirkpatrick Homes, with his car near Greathouse's apartment at 10:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Man sought by FBI is arrested in GC

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents are assisting Granite City police in determining how many crimes a man arrested in a motel here early yesterday was wanted for. His bond has been set at $1 million.

Authorities said today the man is believed to be William E. Mourey, 41, who has no permanent address, and is known to be wanted for federal parole violation, unlawful flight to avoid prosecution from Pennsylvania and St. Louis County, escape from the St. Louis County Jail and three burglaries in Clayton, Mo., Waterloo, Ill., and Granite City.

After authorities discovered Mourey was staying in a room at the Travelodge in downtown Granite City under the name Everette Mathews, all available officers from the Granite City police, Madison County Sheriff's Department, Waterloo police and other agencies surrounded the motel at 4:30 a.m. Wednesday. An officer then called Mourey on the telephone and informed him they had a warrant for his arrest. They also said the motel was surrounded by police and asked Mourey to surrender. After about three tense minutes, during which officers kept their guns drawn and aimed at Mourey's room, he surrendered and was taken into custody without incident.

A .32 caliber revolver with two spent cartridges was found under the mattress in his room. Information that Mourey might be staying in a Granite City motel was received by the Waterloo police, who gave Granite City officers a description of the car he was believed to be driving.

Officers checked local motels and located the car at the Travelodge at 3:05 a.m. Wednesday and a man was registered under one of Mourey's aliases, officers said. They notified Waterloo police and a Waterloo officer brought Monroe County Assistant State's Attorney James Creason to Granite City to assist in the apprehension.

The six Granite City officers on duty were summoned to a briefing with sheriff's deputies and others before being dispatched to surround the motel.

FBI agents became interested when they heard some of the aliases Mourey is believed to have used and spent most of the day yesterday questioning him to determine if he is involved in other cases. Names listed, thus far, as having been used by Mourey include John Goodman, John Goodwin, Johnnie Lee Goodwin, John Moret, John Moray, Robert Allard, Rosent Rosetto, Mourey Williams and Everette Mathews.

One of the names was close to a man sought in Paris, Tex., for kidnapping a minor to sexually assault her and another was similar to a man sought for questioning in Arkansas in connection with the killing of a police officer, but a police spokesman said this morning that investigation has cleared Mourey in both of those cases.

The fact that there was a burglary warrant on file in Granite City for his arrest was not discovered until 8

3 charges of indecent liberties

Richard E. Hill, 59, of 1708 Spring Ave. was charged Monday with three counts of taking indecent liberties with a child.

He was taken before Associate Judge Clayton Williams the same day. No plea was made, and bond was set at $10,000 cash.

A trial date has not yet been set. A mittimus was issued for transfer to county custody.

The charges relate to allegations by an 11-year-old girl and her companion regarding incidents in the Hill residence.

He is said to have enticed the two girls to his home with offers of sandwiches, soft drinks and the opportunity to watch television.

Record 1981 construction by Chromalloy American

Chromalloy American Corporation parent firm of the Precast Metals plant in Granite City, plans record capital expenditures in 1981 of more than $160 million, concentrated on the company's most profitable core businesses, Frank P. Nykiel, president and chief executive officer, said in the 1980 annual report this week.

This will be an increase of more than 70 percent over 1980 capital expenditures of $93.3 million and reflects Chromalloy's "strengthened financial position," Nykiel said.

Chromalloy retired about $55 million of debt in advance of anticipated retirements of $25 million in 1980.

At year end, the company's ratio of debt-to-total capitalization was 44.1 percent which, Nykiel said, "continued a steady downward trend in the ratio from a high point of 56.7 percent in 1973."

Chromalloy's 1981 expenditures will include purchase of 240 new covered barges for $78 million for The Valley Line Co., headquartered in St. Louis, and investment of about $31 million in the expansion of plants and manufacturing facilities which have made Chromalloy a world leader in the manufacture, repair and protective metallurgical coating of turbine blades, vanes and other components of jet aircraft engines and industrial gas turbines.

Also scheduled for 1981 is the completion of the Precast Metals high-speed paint line on Highway Three in Granite City. The local community is considered a leading producer of painted sheet steel in coil form.

A 34,000-ton petroleum tanker will be added this year to the fleet operated by Chromalloy's Sabine Towing and Transportation Co. at Port Arthur, Texas.

Chromalloy also plans to continue the expansion of its Petroleum Services group of companies, and will add further automated equipment at its Brentex textile mills in Texas.

Nykiel said Chromalloy's program of concentrating capital spending on businesses which can generate above-average returns — while selectively disposing of other operations — will continue in 1981.

He said Chromalloy has reached an agreement for sale of seven consumer-related businesses. The sale will yield about $43 million.

The company has also identified 25 other businesses to be sold or restructured during 1981 and 1982. The largest is its foundry business.

"Proceeds of these divestitures will be used for capital expenditures for our basic businesses and to strengthen the company's financial position," Nykiel said.

Chromalloy is a multi-industry business which produces and sells a broad range of products and services. The company had sales of $1.5 billion in 1980 and net earnings of $44.4 million. There are 21,000 employees.

Rainfall in area still below normal

Rainfall in the Quad-City area of 78 of an inch during the weekend brought total fall in this area to 4.34 inches for the first three months of the year—still two inches below normal.

Total rainfall during March was 1.67 inches compared to a normal of 2.34 inches for the month.

The fall during January was 52 of an inch compared to a normal of 1.98 inches and rainfall in February was 2.15 inches, or .11 of an inch above the normal of 2.04 inches.

On the basis of these statistics, the normal rainfall for the first three months of the year is 6.36 inches.

Records show that rainfall for March included .40 of an inch on March 4, .43 of an inch on March 5, .03 of an inch on March 16, .03 of an inch on March 26, .48 of an inch on March 28 and .30 of an inch on March 30.

Pay hikes for most Nameoki officials

The Nameoki Town Board of Trustees Tuesday night voted to grant pay raises to township officials who will be elected April 7, but as Supervisor Harold Davis stated, the increases actually will be offset by a reduction in the salary of the highway commissioner, if Davis is elected to that post.

Davis noted that the current Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic is paid $43 per day worked, and receives $140 a month for work each year for a salary of $15,695 plus $1,080 expenses, a total annual income of $17,375.

The board voted to increase the per diem to $45 for the next four years and the monthly expense allowance to $150, but Davis said that if he is elected he will charge the township for only 288 working days, not for Saturdays, Sundays or holidays.

Under the higher per diem, Davis' salary would total $12,960 and he would receive expenses of $1,920 per year for a total of $14,880, or $2,495 less than Mehelic currently receives, he said.

Other increases approved by the board included raising the supervisor's pay from the current $11,850 per year to $12,350 the first year, $12,850 the second, $13,350 the third and $13,850 in the last year. The supervisor also receives $1,000 per year as treasurer of the road and bridge accounts, which was left unchanged.

The clerk's salary of $6,475 also would rise to $6,475 the first year, then $6,825, $7,175 and $7,525.

The trustees also granted a raise to the tax assessor who will be elected April 7. The assessor will receive the present $8,500 a year until Dec. 31, and then it will rise each calendar year to $9,300 in 1982, $9,800 in 1983, $10,300 in 1984, and $10,800 in 1985.

The tax assessor and collector work on calendar years, so the new officers elected to those will not be seated until Jan. 1, while all other township officials will be seated in May.

The trustees indicated that with more centralized tax collection by the county, the task of the collector has been reduced, so they voted to reduce the salary from $7,300 a year to $7,000 a year for the next four years.

Trustees were granted a raise from the current $1,800 a year to $2,100 annually.

Average pay $13,137

The annual average pay of workers covered by state and federal unemployment insurance was $13,137 in 1979, according to preliminary U.S. Labor Department data. That was an 8.1 percent increase over 1978.

Nation charting

White wine was offered along with soft drinks and mixed beverages of all varieties. The Carter presidential tenure, it was clear, handed out, it was not a "tea and cookies" occasion.

There were hot and cold hors d'oeuvres on tables, and similar fare on platters carried by formally attired waiters. A piping hot cheese delicacy, crisp on the outside and soft on the inside, proved to be a favorite.

Secret Service personnel were present but succeeded in remaining unobtrusive.

Ronald Reagan and his Nancy, America's "first lady," seemed to be extremely happy to see us. They welcomed the visitors as equals, bearing at their presence, offering appropriate conversation and keeping ceremonial fanfare to a minimum.

The brilliant crystal chandeliers and the historic paintings on the walls reminded all who were there that it was a special event, taking place in a setting that had seen countless past cultural, artistic and governmental galas.

It was halfway through the hour-long reception when Vice-President Bush entered, personally greeting a number of the guests and waving to others.

As to appear was Mrs. Reagan, five minutes after his arrival. Clad in an evening dress with black and white stripes, the former actress impressed all whom she met with her warmth, graciousness and beauty. Like her husband, she seems younger than her actual age.

A pace behind her was Mr. Reagan, exuding good wishes and charismatic charm, his robust health and appearance belying his long and varied careers as a student athlete, sports announcer, film star, rancher, corporate spokesman, governor and, since Jan. 20, the 40th president of the United States.

Carefully groomed, he wore a dark grey, two-piece suit that added to his aura of simplicity and sincerity.

Humorists have said that his acting career seemed to have prepared him to portray "the president's best friend" rather than the chief executive himself. But he looked quite at home and at ease as the occupant of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

The real-life president's "best friend" is, in many respects, the vice-president, who has increasingly won favor as a trusted, capable aide. Mr. Bush, for example, was chosen in late March as both international and domestic "crisis team manager" for the administration. The day after the reception, he was dispatched to Atlanta to help coordinate increased federal funding and involvement in that city's efforts to solve 20 baffling child murders.

Crisis management received its first test this week with the wounding of the chief executive, but the quick recuperation made it only a mini-crisis.

As noted, the atmosphere at the East Room reception was low-keyed and jovial—an approach the president somehow managed to maintain even while he was going into and coming out of surgery on Monday ("Honey, I forgot to duck."

"All in all, I'd rather be in Philadelphia.")

But the reception also included a few serious remarks by Mr. Reagan.

What better way for the president to make a solid hit with newspapers than to quote his predecessor, Thomas Jefferson, on the subjects of democracy and journalism?

"Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter," Mr. Jefferson wrote. (Mr. Reagan does not admit to being around in 1787, but would laugh if someone suggested he was nearly that old.)

The quote was utilized, and the current president proudly pointed out that press freedom remains alive and vital to this day. "Not one of your newspapers would accept tyrannical, dictatorial government. You and I cherish our hard-won liberty," Mr. Reagan commented. "A newspaper is a business. I'm sure that you're all aware of that."

1974, and the other was of an unapproved type.

11) "Located and operated a trailer coach park with units one, two, three, four, five, six, 12, 17 and or 18 closer than 10 feet to a street or alley."

A date for a hearing on the complaints will be set and a summons or-

"Like all other businesses, you have a big stake in whether we are successful in turning the economy around."

"Freedom and economic vitality and American enterprise are our goals. Unfortunately, very little information on our budget and tax objectives is getting to the public."

"Please help us clarify that not a penny is being cut. The federal budget will be bigger. We're cutting the rate of increase in the budget, not the budget itself."

"I'm sure you'll help explain that to the public. It's a reduction in the proposed increases."

"I don't want to overemphasize the point, but I encourage you to correct this and enlighten your readers."

Following a brief introduction of Vice-President Bush, who did not speak, the president left the microphone but lingered a few more minutes to shake hands.

His grip was not overpowering, but comments by several presidents have indicated this is a necessity. After hundreds and even thousands of greetings each week, the process must be approached cautiously—lest painful soreness develop in a president's hands.

What does one say to one's president? The comments varied, but the general pattern seemed to be along the line of "keep up the good work."

References to places of residence—Illinois, his native state, and California, his adopted state—also were heard as the news people met the leader of their nation.

When the country's top two officials and Mrs. Reagan had departed, the band played on. Refreshments continued to arrive, and the guests had an opportunity to walk (without restraining ropes) through the Red Room, the Green Room and the State Dining Room.

The festive meeting between officials and citizens' soon was at an end, but the memories of it will last.

And the date of March 30, 1981, also will remain fixed in the guests' minds. One does not easily forget a day in which there was a violent assault against a president and his staff—particularly a president one has had an opportunity to meet as a friend.

PRESENTING "The United With Progress Party" NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP

We Have:

- ★ A qualified experienced candidate in every position.
- ★ Established more programs for the elderly, handicapped and low income families than ever before.
- ★ Obtained nearly one million dollars in Federal and state funds and special grants to provide additional services without additional taxes.
- ★ Efficiently managed your tax dollars by "Low Bid" purchases, investment of funds not immediately needed, etc.

Our Opposition Has:

- ★ Little experience — six of the nine candidates had not attended a township meeting prior to two months ago.
- ★ Presented half-truths concerning township expenditures while trying to justify irresponsible expenditures by their highway commissioner candidate.

How Can They Justify Their Candidates Performance?

- ★ Well over one million dollars spent by the Highway Department during the past four (4) years from property taxes, motor fuel taxes, revenue sharing, etc., of over $190,000.00 spent from your property taxes in the 1979-80 Road Budget; approximately $9,000.00 actually purchased material used on your roads.
- ★ Highway Department had over $65,000.00 at beginning of the term — Nine days into beginning of this fiscal year borrowed $45,000.00.

We Must Have A Responsible Highway Commissioner!

- ★ Are the taxpayers of Nameoki Township ready for Partneyville, USA?
- ★ Why are they so desperately wanting to control county, school district, city and township government? We share the same fears that many others have expressed concerning the large political power base being developed in this area.

Business Talk

Big Screen TV: Better, Cheaper

UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — About 1 percent of color television receivers sold for home use in the United States this year will be big screen systems, but that will change dramatically, says Henry Kloss, who also predicts that Americans will have "viewing rooms" in their homes.

Kloss is a Boston manufacturer and inventor whose designs helped make the big screen TV practical for the home. He told United Press International that at least 20 U.S. and foreign companies are making these receivers to sell for from $2,500 to $4,000 — the lowest price about three times as much as a good standard color receiver.

Kloss, who set out 13 years ago to adapt big screen TV to the home in the hope that it would "provide incentive for better programming," thinks the potential right now to capture 5 to 8 percent of the unit home "TV" market and a much bigger dollar share. General Electric Corp. has made virtually the same prediction.

I am sure that would be enough to enable the big screen home viewers to have some influence in getting networks and program producers to do a better job," Kloss said. HE THINKS big screen home TV will both help and benefit from the videotape. Many of the movies and program recorded on videocassettes were intended for showing on huge theater screens or stages and just don't hold down to the scale of the standard television tube. He says the improvement in reproduction quality on a 5 1/2 by 4-foot home big screen is phenomenal.

Kloss has manufactured 30,000 home big screen receivers in the last dozen years but he concedes that most of them found their way to clubs and bars. But from now on most of the big screens will go into homes, he said, and the impact on the entertainment world will be substantial.

Hand-hewn logs problem in restoring 1850s log cabin

If a modern builder decides to put up a new house, he simply fills out his shopping list of materials and takes it to the nearest lumber yard.

But where can he order 10 hand-hewn logs a foot-and-a-third square?

That's the problem facing Youth Conservation Corps workers at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville who want to restore a 125-year-old log house this summer.

The living history project is part of the summer conservation program that will put 36 teenagers to work as they learn more about preserving their environment.

And Bob Williams, director of the YCC program, who must be ready to go the first week in June, admits he needs help.

"I am looking for some kind soul who has enough of a log cabin somewhere to make a fourth side and is enough of a history buff to want to see it all preserved for later generations," he said.

Williams has the other three sides of the cabin, all dismantled and numbered, waiting to be reassembled. It has been the Mersinger family home since 1859, built on their farm along the Troy-O'Fallon Road.

"That's how the fourth side got lost," Gary Mersinger explained. He is the fourth generation to be born and live in the home since his great grandfather, Frederic, purchased it two years before Lincoln moved into the White House.

The original one-room cabin came with the land, Mersinger said, so no one is quite sure when it was built. But the Mersingers added rooms as the family grew and prospered.

But not until 1977 when the family decided to remove the house did they discover the perfectly preserved log cabin inside the plaster and siding of the living room.

"It has stood so long, I don't want it destroyed now," Mersinger said. The cabin is in "mint condition" except for the missing fourth wall that was cut away from access to the addition.

Thinking of the history involved, Mersinger first donated the structure to the Madison County Historical Society with the idea it would be reassembled behind the museum in Edwardsville.

Manpower workers took the cabin apart, log by log, but when the money ran out, the logs never got put back together again, he said. They were all trying to figure a way out when Mersinger happened to see the smaller log cabin the YCC workers rebuilt along the SIUE nature trail last summer and decided he wanted the same for his log cabin.

Williams included the structure on the proposed work projects approved for SIUE for the summer of '81. "If the budget isn't cut, we will be ready to go as soon as we find the logs," Williams said.

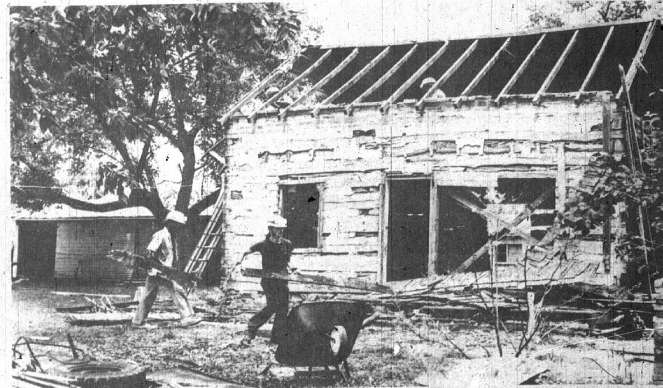

And to any prospective log donors who are interested, Williams said he is not particular about donations. "Something with the bark off, squared and notched, but long enough to bridge the 18-foot gap would be nice," he said with a grin. "Seriously, we are open to any and all suggestions."

The cabin will also need a new roof, but the YCC workers shingled the other log cabin last summer and see no problem with wooden shakes. "We would just like to avoid the total pioneer experience of chopping down the trees, squaring the timber and notching it to fit," Williams admitted.

Interested log owners who agree may call Williams at the department of elementary and early childhood education at 692-3082.

NEEDS FOURTH SIDE. Youth Conservation Corps workers at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will get a first-hand lesson in log cabin building this summer if they can find enough hand-hewn logs to fill in the fourth side of the 1850s structure they plan to restore. The fourth side was cut away in 1880 when Frederic Mersinger enlarged and built over the cabin which was part of the Mersinger family home near Troy until 1977. Donations or information may be arranged with Bob Williams, YCC director, at 692-3082.

Madison Employment picture better in February

The Madison Schools, city police and fire departments are making a concerted effort to make school children safety conscious.

All elementary schools (Blair, Harris, St. Marys, and Louis Baer) will participate in a safety poster contest. Monetary prizes will be awarded to the first, second, and third place winners in each home room. These prizes will be contributed by the Madison Fire Department.

The first place prize winners will qualify to enter a contest for a bicycle to be given to each of the four schools by the Madison Police Department.

The awarding of the first place prizes and the bicycles will take place at the Safety Awards Program to be held at the Madison High School auditorium on Monday, April 6, at 6:30 p.m.

The unemployment picture in Granite City has brightened slightly, improving from 14.2 percent in January to 12.2 percent unemployment in February, according to preliminary figures released Tuesday by the Illinois Department of Labor. Similar improvement is shown in the county and the region.

The unemployment rate here remains higher than the average for Madison County of 10.4 percent, according to Worden's preliminary figures for February. County-wide, 10,963 persons were unemployed of a work force of 105,920 in February. In January, Madison County had 12,734 persons unemployed or 11.9 percent of the total work force, the report shows.

Granite City's unemployment also remains higher than East St. Louis, where 10.4 percent of the work force is unemployed. The statistics show that of 23,988 eligible workers in East St. Louis, 2,504 are unemployed.

The unemployment rate for St. Clair County also has improved, dropping from 11.3 percent in January to 8.7 percent in the preliminary February figures.

Overall unemployment in the portion of Illinois covering Bond, Calhoun, Clatsop, Jersey, Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties was 10.1 percent in February, down from 11.8 percent in the final January figures, Worden noted.

Letters to the Editor

Mayor deserves another 4 years

To the Editor:

While it is a serious subject, I find it amusing at times when I read some of the statements made by friends, by neighbors and in the ads of candidates for office. At times, they stretch the truth.

I have lived in Granite City 69 years; my folks moved here on Columbus Day, 1911. I have watched this town grow into a real, live city, one which I am proud to call my home town and in which we are proud to raise our children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Granite City is a typical Midwestern city where friendliness abounds and we boast a school system second to none. Normally, it is a bustling town. But like most other industrial areas in the U. S., we are in the same situation—with abnormal unemployment—at this time.

It is most unfair and unjust, in my opinion, for anyone to blame our present mayor for the unemployment situation. Mayor Schulz did everything in his power to persuade A. O. Smith Corp. to change its plans and remain here.

To a multi-million dollar corporation such as A. O. Smith, closing a plant of this size is nothing new or catastrophic. They are big business, and sell everything pro and con before taking an action of this nature.

Evidently, the board of directors in researching the situation found it more logical and practical to close the plant, than to re-tool and revise it with a complete change. They evidently found it would cost more to accomplish that than to build a new plant with new and modern ideas and procedures.

It was Smith, prior to opening the plant in Granite City, that placed help-wanted ads in numerous small towns, some as much as 40 miles from this city. I do not recall seeing an ad in our local paper for help.

Hiring these workers from out-of-town in lieu of people from our own Quad-Cities was, in my opinion, highly improper for good public relations.

Such procedure was the prerogative of Smith, and one candidate has said he will sell a new plant or business to hire local people first. You might ask them to see this, but you may rest assured they will do as they see fit.

That is exactly what A. O. Smith did in hiring out-of-towners and in closing the plant when it had served its purpose for the company.

I have known most mayors of our city. I played softball with the late Marshall E. Kirkpatrick, mayor for several terms. He was a good, steady performer and a good mayor.

I wish to write briefly about the overpass. I recall vividly one of the several tragedies in which someone was hit, injured or killed by one of the many passenger trains that passed through our city. In this instance, a young school girl, about 12 years old, riding her bicycle home across the 20th Street crossing, was struck and killed by a train.

He worked doggedly and correctly. Leonard Davis was mayor at the time. He started immediate action to have the railroad install crossing gates at all four crossings in the city then. He had been working on this project prior to the tragedy, and he worked doggedly until the gates were installed.

Many thanks to Leonard; no doubt, his accomplishment saved many lives. There had been periodic tragedies at the crossings. I am sure he encountered the same roadblock relative to his endeavors to build the overpass; we all know, or should know, it was a lack of funds.

After each fatality, the need for an overpass became more obvious. Also, citizens died as a result of ambulances being blocked by trains.

I remember when the 2000 block of Illinois Avenue for the most part burned due to firefighters being blocked by a train. A new fire station was built at Cayuga and Rock Road to take care of this problem. However, we still needed the overpass and several mayors tried without success to build it, failing for the same reason, lack of funds.

The overpass is fast becoming a reality due mostly to the leadership of Mayor Paul Schulz. He had some good citizens helping him, such as Louis Cohen and the late Alderman Walter Norn of the 5th Ward.

Mayor Schulz did everything in his power to persuade A. O. Smith Corp. to change its plans and remain here.

Fisk 'Plot' was by, not against, Parney

To the Editor:

In a recent article (March 16, Press-Record), Dan Parney came up with some "insider" story alleging a conspiracy between Warren Decatur, Madison politics and Paul Schulz in an attempt to elect him (Parney) in the race for mayor of Granite City.

In the article, he stated that I am an employee of Avery Schermer, and by me asking Warren Decatur about the names of the people that were supposed to be making offers of money and/or threats — to him to get him out of the race for mayor — it indicted or implied that I, too, was a part of this great plot.

A Scripture verse came to my mind: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Three years ago when Dan ran for County Board member — hand in hand with Willard Herzog, I might as well add, and I did. Emil Toffant, Jim McKel, Bill Johnson and, yes, Dan Parney as guests at our home for a coffee, to meet several of our neighbors.

Not long after that, Dan came back to my home, had coffee again, and offered assistance if I decided to run for alderman.

This third year, because I also knew that Willard Herzog was planning to run, and Willard and he had just run as a team—Herzog for committeeman, and Dan for County Board.

Willard was one of the slogans. According to a brochure I have, it said, "Pull the lever for Parney and Herzog. Trust them with your vote; they will not betray your trust."

But here he already was making me an "offer" or "promise." Baffling, to be sure.

Many GC services for elderly

To the Editor:

The Senior Citizens of Granite City wish to thank Mayor Paul Schermer and Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer and the others on the ticket for the many things that have been given to us.

Our bus service is the greatest. There is an excellent nutrition program in the Township Building, where hot meals are served every day.

There is a garden program, and many of us get our blood pressure taken every other week.

The staff of workers has been so great to see that we have every advantage that the senior citizens ask for. The parties and other things we want to attend or participate in are only possible through the Senior Citizens Bus Service, made available by Mr. Hagnauer and the courteous and helpful drivers he furnishes for us.

Kirkpatrick needs speed bumps

To the Editor:

There has been considerable talk in the newspapers about political offers and "dirty" politics.

Since I decided to support Charles Douglas for First Ward alderman and Dan Parney for mayor, I have received my fair share of political promises and offers.

I have been approached by old friends and even relatives trying to convince me to support Paul Schulz, Casmer Skubish and the rest of his ticket.

I have been offered money and even been warned.

I keep telling all those people that I can be "bribed," just offer me speed bumps in Kirkpatrick Homes to protect my children.

Parney and Douglas care about everyone in the city, including the forgotten ones in Kirkpatrick Homes and East Granite.

I encourage everyone to make a change in the head of our city government. Elect a mayor who will work closely with the one alderman who has shown he cares.

One other item: One candidate in our ward has Dan, did you forget? When the 1979 campaign rolled around, where was the support you promised? It was in a fund-raiser held for Herzog and a somewhat misleading meeting called by concerned senior citizens at the Town Hall, held by Willard Herzog, Joe McGinness and Dan Parney.

During the campaign, Dan, I may forget again, I received three offers to withdraw from the race. One came through my good friend, Bill Harrison, from Herzog.

The offer was, if I would withdraw I could have the support of Herzog and the United Auto Workers union in this election of 1981.

The second message came through my employer and your friend and neighbor, Avery Schermer, from you, Dan, the same offer.

The third came through McGinness from Herzog — same offer. My answer to all of them, as you should remember, was, "Beat me at the polls."

I saw no harm in this — I did not make this an issue. There were no threats, but the offer was made.

I hold nothing against anyone for this. Bill Harrison was doing Willard a favor. And because Bill and I are friends, what better messenger? The same holds true with McGinness.

You went to Avery, Dan, because he is your neighbor and friend, and my employer; certainly, what better messenger?

These gentlemen did nothing more than to be friendly and helpful. I personally appreciate people of this kind.

I asked Mr. Decatur the question, because the question and answer period was about over, and this was a question, as president of the club, I felt — as many others did — needed to be asked.

I didn't know if the moderator, Mr. Melton, would even call on me. After all, there were other hands raised.

But I suppose this, in Dan's mind, is just another part of the — what was the word, Danny? — "scenario."

Dan, another of your friends and neighbor, Pat Schuman, is running for election in your own ward. Because of his friendship with Mr. Decatur, he decided rather than hurt anyone's feelings, he would not support or ask support from any mayor candidate. Under the circumstances, a wise choice, don't you think?

Mr. Decatur understood this when Pat told him: Mayor Schulz understood — but not you, Dan. You put a Joe McGinness (Pat's opponent) sign in your yard two doors from your neighbor, Schuman.

This has hurt the Schuman family somewhat, but you haven't thought of that, have you, Dan? Or have you?

I know what I have been told by people involved in Dan's "Hollywood" plot.

I know what I have read in the newspaper. I know what I heard when Mr. Decatur answered the question at the Democrat Club.

And I know the honesty and truthfulness of those who have had their integrity challenged by Dan Parney. Come on, Dan, you've been caught with "egg on your face." That's no crime, but be big enough to admit it.

It takes a mature person to handle the job of mayor of Granite City. Maybe — just maybe — someday Dan will be ready for this task.

Dan, I don't believe you are ready now, and I would hope the people of Granite City aren't ready for you.

THIRD WARD

ALDERMAN PAUL FISK

Decatur foe of drugs and crime

To the Editor:

We, the undersigned, feel it is imperative to voice our support for the only candidate taking a stand on drugs and crime, Warren Decatur.

Mr. Decatur is presently chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Crime Prevention Committee and is working on a drug education program to be presented in May to parents of Granite City.

Clearly, drugs and crime are not new concerns of his; for as issues he feels strongly about.

He has pledged to work with schools, churches, police and parents to educate the public as to the dangers of drugs and the signs of drug use. He has further pledged to work with police to curtail drug traffic in our city.

To combat crime, Mr. Decatur proposes to increase the police force and put police on foot patrol in high crime areas. In addition, Mr. Decatur's plan includes more extensive training for police.

We are concerned for the welfare and future of our families and our city. Warren Decatur shares our concern and is dedicated to making our city a safer place for all of us.

For these reasons we support Warren Decatur, candidate for mayor of Granite City.

Recalls plan to make street job appointive

To the Editor:

Just a few short years ago we were put into the position of voting whether we wanted to select our superintendent of streets, or have the position appointive. We all know that we chose to elect that very important position.

Why should that have happened? Was it because the present mayor and some of the lame-duck aldermen had political differences?

It is very obvious that anyone associated with that scheme did not have the interest of the taxpayer at heart.

Why should we put a man in charge again that looks to me as if he was in agreement with such an obvious political scheme as that? It's time we had some new faces, new blood, new ideas, and a new mayor.

We face an election which will affect us more directly than the national election. It is obvious that President Reagan's landslide victory that we, the voters, want action now.

President Carter had four full years to get the job done. It is very obvious how we the voters, felt about his performance.

Why should we give the incumbent mayor of our fair city another term to accomplish what he could not do in eight years already? It is well known that our city has one of the highest unemployment rates in the country. If we continue in this direction, where will our city be in another four years?

You always hear the slogan, "Time for a change." I say that in Granite City it should be "Overdue for a change."

Chouteau officials are responsive

To the Editor:

In answer to comments about officials not being responsive to the public when the Postal Department issued an order to close the Mitchell Post Office, the Chouteau Township officials immediately prepared and circulated petitions against the closing.

They filed these with postal officials and congressmen.

Had our present officials not taken this action, we would not have a post office in Mitchell today.

Past glory vs. future leadership

To the Editor:

This is not a story about Old McDonald's farm, as it might appear, but a commentary on a triangle of political opponents there, now, in our mayoral arena.

The eagle is young, quick to understand, and steady in his goals. He is eager to cut away despair by helping his community recuperate and press forward with a renewed vigor which has been lost in the past four years. But there are those who would keep him under hood and leash.

The turkey is all aglow with the memories of yesteryear, when what might have been, what should have been, and what could have been in his youth.

The contented goose has the poorest perch of all, because he is first, contented and can call upon the good accomplishments of others to bolster himself. He has to work hard to try to remember, while making waves to renew past glories and long-past personal accomplishments.

If this story of birds seems far-fetched, then so does the storm which has been gathering around the mayoral race in Granite

Past glory vs. future leadership

To the Editor:

This is not a story about Old McDonald's farm, as it might appear, but a commentary on a triangle of political opponents there, now, in our mayoral arena.

The eagle is young, quick to understand, and steady in his goals. He is eager to cut away despair by helping his community recuperate and press forward with a renewed vigor which has been lost in the past four years. But there are those who would keep him under hood and leash.

The contented goose has the poorest perch of all, because he is

Schuler, Hagnauer, Pettrillo, Mrs. Voegelé endorsed

Granite City voters decide April 7 whether to continue in office Mayor Schuler, Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer, City Treasurer Nick Pettrillo, Assessor Von Dee Cruse and City Clerk Robert Stevens. All have opposed the city clerk.

Mayor Schuler in seeking re-election cites the major expansion of St. Elizabeth Medical Center and local industries, including Granite City Steel, American Steel Foundries and Nestlé—all aided by city industrial revenue bonds—and the many new industries attracted through similar bond programs. This has partly offset industrial departures and the ravages of the current recession.

Traffic access has been and is being improved through such projects as the 19th Street overpass and construction of Johnson Road and Maryville Road. Police and fire protection and equipment have been substantially upgraded. Many services have been provided to senior citizens.

An effective ambulance and emergency medical technician program was established under intense time pressure, meeting a deadline abruptly created by political foes.

Curbs and sidewalks have been constructed, governmental buildings built and improved, recreational facilities installed, street lights obtained, homes painted, low-interest home loans obtained, railroad crossings repaved, city insurance costs lowered, and overall spending kept within reasonable bounds.

Mayor Schuler is accurately credited with a long list of accomplishments—not achieved single-handedly, but nevertheless achieved under his leadership. His ability to work cooperatively with others has contributed much to this positive record. If he is denied a third term, it may be for inappropriate reasons.

Daniel Partney, whom many believe will become the next mayor, is intelligent and articulate, an avowed fighter for economy and efficiency.

He believes his success in business could be adapted to the city's municipal leadership role, bringing about greater success for the city through inspired and energetic performance by the top official. There might be some who think he is too young, but he insists that age or better results could be achieved.

It is hard to visualize grants playing a bigger role than they do in city financing; the early 1980s seems sure to be an era of federal and state cutbacks. Nor is it easy to see how he could expand man-

Mayor Sasyk, Mayor Echols have earned re-election

Chief executive of the City of Madison for 11 years, Mayor John Sasyk is recommended for re-election April 7.

Improvements carried out since 1970 include added street lighting, street and utility resurfacing, home repairs in many homes, businesses and public buildings, and efforts to enhance the business climate, including the Alpine theme on commercial buildings.

A new trash collection program is being expanded citywide and a Madison cable television system is being developed. Basic municipal services have been maintained despite a significant decrease in the property tax base.

His opponent, Jim Riskovsky, also is well acquainted with Madison issues and needs and has business and governmental experience. A participant and leader in many local groups, he is an attractive candidate, but lacks the degree of experience of the incumbent.

Unopposed next week are City Clerk John Beloff, City Treasurer Bill Hoekstra and city aldermen Robert Donald Reeves of the First Ward, Mrs. Ida Dant of the Second Ward and Christ Costoff of the Fourth Ward.

They are recommended to voters along with two incumbent City Council members who have opposition, Third Ward Alderman Thomas Gordon, with four years on the Council, and Fifth Ward Alderman Booker Walton, who has held that office since 1948. Thomas George of the Third Ward and the Rev. Charles R. Jones of the Fifth Ward also could serve capably.

In the Venice city election, Mayor Tyrone Echols is unopposed for a second term. In view of his record in office, including six years as an alderman before becoming mayor, he is endorsed by the Press-Record to continue as his municipality's chief executive.

Also unopposed and recommended are City Treasurer J. Alan Gardner and Fourth Ward Alderman Charles Haynes. For Venice city clerk, we favor Dale Georgeff, a traffic rate analyst at McDonnell Douglas Corp. with business administration and psychology degrees from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Also qualified is James Harrell, a construction employee and former policeman who has an accounting degree.

Skubish able council candidate

To the Editor:
Cassmer Skubish, candidate for alderman in the First Ward, was my colleague and partner while I served with him as an alderman on the City Council. I have very much respect for his integrity and ability to serve the residents of the ward. I highly recommend Cassmer Skubish for alderman of the First Ward.

SANDY PENCE,

committeeman and
First Ward resident

Acts on his principles—Douglas

To the Editor:
Frankly, this lack of endorsement by the editor of the Press-Record neither surprised nor bothered me. I was bothered, though, by the editor's tortured reasoning, and by the blatant falsehoods concerning my record in the letter by the East 25th resident.

I was fascinated to learn how I "singlehandedly" forced the rest of my colleagues to meet specially the night after Christmas. I cannot help it if they do not mind passing ordinances they have no need.

If the ordinance had been presented to us even a couple hours instead of only 10 minutes before the council meeting, the council probably would have voted with the majority to suspend the rules, if I found the ordinance in order. The council needs 10 votes to suspend the rules. As consistently as I have before, on important legislation, I voted "No" to rule suspension.

Blame the failure of passage that night on the city attorney for failing to give us copies at least two days before the meeting as per council rule, or on the four other absent aldermen, not on me, because I voted my long-standing, long-voiced principles.

Says Schuman claims too much

To the Editor:
It is amusing and sometimes even funnier when the local elections come down to the wire.

Take for instance Ward 2 Alderman Schuman. All over the ward he is passing out literature implying that he played a part, and bragging that these are his accomplishments during four years as alderman.

Included in his accomplishments he lists: retaining A & B blast furnaces, building a continuing caster at GC Steel, building a new battery of coke ovens, and renovating the basic oxygen furnace to a KMS system.

It amazes me to know that one alderman can do so much. I personally think National Steel did all this without the least bit of help or advice from Alderman Schuman.

In his campaign four years ago, he never once stated that he was going to

In fact, I was never even given a good reason, despite asking, why the bond issue resolution had to be passed before the year's end. Now, the editor cites my consistent voting record as the reason why my neighbors should support me.

I have always supported the industrial bond issues and Pre-Coat Metals' entrance into the city, and will not, however, support uninformed council votes.

I have seen all too often ordinances passed the night they were introduced and then, at the next council meeting, watch a crowd of angry citizens tell the council to go off over poorly considered ordinance.

Remember the infamous city business licensing ordinance, the no-trailers-in-the-city ordinance, and the truck traffic limiting ordinance on 25th Street?

These ill-conceived, non-discussed, rule-suspended, one-night ordinances brought only embarrassment to the mayor and city council.

Concerning the East 25th resident, I first received her complaint approximately three months ago. She told me how she talked to the city inspectors with no results. What else is new?

In his accomplishments he lists 112 letters. They must have delivered them on a windy day, because the people on my street never received any.

He fails to state he was successful in putting up three two-hour parking signs in front of his dad's "home" business in the 2800 block of Grand which covers 200 feet of the taxpayers' street.

As a four-year member of the Finance Committee, he has been all for spending money. When Alderman Decatur was telling the Council there was duplication of services on outside influence to affect or make his decisions.

Joe McGinness is this type man. I'm sure he'll let outside influence affect his decisions while he takes care of all of the Ward 2 problems.

He has pledged to serve all the people of the ward, not a select few.

Immediately, I telephoned the city attorney and city inspectors to get them on the ball.

Since her complaint, I have asked the prime responsible official, Monroe Brown, at each and every council meeting when he was going to provide the easily retrieved necessary information to the city attorney to get the problem solved.

I've received nothing but the typical bureaucratic run-around.

Yes, I can be sure with Schuler. Sure, I'll get no cooperation from his appointees.

Concerning my attendance record, I dare the East 25th resident to check the official council minutes. She'll find I have attended 90 percent of the meetings.

Of the missed meetings, many of them, I was attending other city business out-of-town or attending special schools for the taxpayers' benefit.

A check of the records will show Press-Record-endorsed aldermen with horrible attendance records.

I don't appreciate the deliberate false slur on my public record, especially when the editor knows better!

CHARLES R. DOUGLAS
First Ward Alderman

This year, our tax bill will be 15 to 20 percent higher than last year. All due to the multipliers. A good alderman would try to save the taxpayers' money.

Ward 2 needs a thrifty, get-the-job-done alderman, with outside influence to affect or make his decisions.

Joe McGinness is this type man. I'm sure he'll let outside influence affect his decisions while he takes care of all of the Ward 2 problems.

He has pledged to serve all the people of the ward, not a select few.

JOE MITCHELL

I didn't vote for him and yet, he would speak me around town. He would speak to me. Now that's what I call a good mayor.

I predict that our present Mayor will win this election with no sweat.

Efficient work by Madison police

To the Editor:

On Friday morning, March 27, around 10 a.m., I happened to be at Schermer's Grocery in Madison. While shopping, we heard a crash on the outside—an automobile accident. In a second, Mr. Schermer called the police.

In five minutes, three Madison police cars, one Venice police car and Donald Bridick, Madison police chief, plus an ambulance and a towing truck, were at the scene of the accident. The teamwork was beautiful. They were there; they cared.

In 10 or 15 minutes, everything was under control and traffic was going beautifully.

I commend the Madison Police Department.

Boelling would work full-time

To the Editor:

Being an independent Democrat, I'm walking, door-to-door, asking for votes.

I've taken my campaign to the people—not only to ask for their vote, but to listen to their concerns, their views, their needs.

Venice Township is not a lost cause—improvements with playground areas, and a clean-up operation are wanted.

This can all be accomplished with leadership, guidance and cooperation. I will seek available funding and use it in the manner that is intended.

I plan to work with the city governments, because I feel that working together will resolve issues that have been lying around for so long. I intend to be a full-time supervisor because I feel that it will take time to get things moving in the right direction.

I don't belong to various clubs or organizations, but that isn't the issue here. I also isn't a record to run your campaign on.

Nothing has been done for Venice Township in the past eight years. As I've said all along, I'm not buying any votes, but I will appreciate them.

Kittel has concern for citizens

To the Editor:

Third Ward residents are indeed fortunate to have a candidate who has concern for people. I am speaking of Carl Kittel, who is qualified, knowledgeable and able to handle the job of alderman.

Kittel has already worked many hours and days to improve not only the Third Ward but other parts of the city.

He is a family man, property owner, a veteran and a worker who understands the needs of his fellow man, both young and old.

Votes for Carl Kittel will be a step in the right direction, to meet the needs and bring improvements for the citizens of the ward, and for all citizens. I recommend Mr. Kittel for alderman most highly.

Marvelous service by Hagnauer

To the Editor:

I am writing concerning the article submitted by Tom Nesbit in Monday's paper. Mr. Nesbit has charged Mr. Hagnauer with operating a "do-nothing" administration. How can anyone make such a statement? Where has Mr. Nesbit been for the last 15 years?

Let the first place, everything Mr. Nesbit promises if elected has already been accomplished by Mr. Hagnauer.

The Hagnauer administration does everything it can to aid senior citizens in this community.

There have been several instances where needy people have been immediately helped in this town—all because they've known help was there.

If Mr. Nesbit "turns this city around," then the people of this community will have to start all over again to build the marvelous programs that were started by Mr. Hagnauer.

All of this, despite Alderman Douglas' visible efforts and lobbying on our behalf.

HIGHER TAXES?

VON DEE CRUSE, CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION AS TAX ASSESSOR EXPOSES BUDGET STRUCTURE OF CURRENT MAYOR!

Within Mr. Cruse's brochure, which is currently being passed throughout the city, Mr. Von Dee Cruse states:

There is nothing in property valuation to cause total taxes to increase or decrease. Property tax totals are determined by expenditures of counties, municipalities and school districts. IF PROPERTY TAXES ARE INCREASED IT IS BECAUSE THE BUDGETS OF ONE OR ALL OF THESE LOCAL GOVERNMENTS INCREASE!

1. Payroll Costs for the City of Granite City increased 109.46% (1973-1980).
2. Expense Allowances for the City of Granite City increased 212.48% (1973-1980).
3. Contract Services for the City of Granite City increased 75.50% (1973-1980).
4. Miscellaneous Account for the City of Granite City increased 139.18% (1973-1980).
5. Sewage Treatment Plant Payroll Cost for the City of Granite City increased 385.67% (1973-1979).

As the above quote indicates, a member of the "Mayor's Team" explains why this city can meet any budget it so desires . . . . . SIMPLY BY RAISING TAXES.

Lions to sponsor hearing tests

The most frequently reported disorder in a recent U.S. Public Health interview study will be dealt with on Wednesday, April 8, and Thursday, April 9, when the Lions Mobile Hearing Service Unit comes to the Quad-Cities.

The Hearing Unit will be hosted by the Madison Lions Club on Wednesday, April 8, between the hours of 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Madison Lions Home, located at 910 Madison Avenue. The Unit will then travel to Pontoon Beach and be hosted by the Pontoon Beach Club between the hours of 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Lions Den II, 2901 Lake Drive.

The Granite City Lions Club will host the Unit on Thursday, April 9, between the hours of 9 a.m. until 12 noon and 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave. The unit will be part of SEMC's Health Fair $1 program.

The test will be given free of charge. Staffing of the unit will be local Lions and volunteers and a Hearing Technician to do the actual hearing screenings.

No appointments are necessary for the screening. The unit is able to screen up to six persons at one time. It will take approximately ten minutes to screen each group. It will be recommended to any adult who fails the test to be seen by a physician, preferably an ear specialist.

This is a rare opportunity for adults to learn about hearing loss and at the same time have their hearing checked. Information about causes and effects, symptoms and treatment of hearing loss will be available on the unit. Adults may also obtain a directory of Audiologists, Otolologists and reputable hearing aid dealers.

When the unit arrives, Lions and volunteers will help-welcome adults wishing to take the simple hearing test. Local Lions planning to help in the screening include:

Pontoon Beach Lions: Phil Vaughn as screening chairman, Vince Thorpe, Tom Campbell, Bob Barton, Jason Kieffer, Bob Carroll and Jerry Henderson.

Granite City Lions: Frank Greathouse as screening chairman, Randal Irwin, Herman Schroeder, George

Louis, Oscar Nazetta, Don Watson, Dick Foy and Dennis Greathouse.

According to a Lions spokesman, it is estimated that seven of every hundred persons has some degree of hearing impairment. One half of all hearing impaired are over 65 years of age. Many persons are not receiving the treatment they need. Some persons will not admit that they have a hearing problem; others are not aware of their hearing loss.

Madison to issue $2.5 million industrial bonds for TWR plant

By LISA LUTZ
for the Press-Record

TWR Freight Car Repair Company is expanding its operations in the old Laclede Steel complex and has asked the City of Madison to issue $2.5 million in industrial revenue bonds for the expansion.

At the Madison City Council meeting Tuesday night, the council members unanimously agreed to issue the bonds, as the expansion will hopefully increase employment from 30 to 100. The council's attorney will draw the resolution.

The aldermen also agreed to transfer $20,000 from the city's liability insurance fund to the general fund to pay for 600 trash containers holding 55 gallons each. The containers will allow the current experimental trash program to be expanded city-wide. The money also will pay an invoice which is due for commercial trash containers.

The aldermen were also informed that the Office of Manpower Services has extended the termination date for those employees having CETA jobs under Title VI.

The original termination

date was April 3, due to the restriction of federal spending, but Manpower has obtained additional funds and the jobs will be extended to the middle or end of June. The councilmen also were told that Metal Services in the Fox Industrial Park has been purchased and the plant is projected to be back in operation by May 2.

"We are all really happy about this," said Mayor

Mike Sasyk. "It looks very promising for the city and we should all be proud," he commented.

A separate story on the new business appears elsewhere in today's issue. Sasyk and Building Inspector John Dutko expressed their thanks to the Madison Street Department for the demolition of two condemned Madison properties.

Remember The "PEOPLE'S RIGHT TO VOTE" Issue?

Our City provides the opportunity to elect a Mayor and City Council that reflects the will of the people. I truly believe the will of the voters should be paramount in the actions of the officials that run our City government.

We, the citizens of the community, must seriously consider the actions of the present administration and its unsuccessful attempt to remove a duly elected official. Remember the Citizen's Right-to-Vote campaign? Why would a Mayor want to remove an official, knowing full well that this tradition was deeply implanted in the minds and wishes of the voters? Our people have fought and will always fight for these privileges. Our present Mayor wants the citizens to trust him and his leadership abilities. Should we trust him after he seriously attempted to take away our democratic heritage of electing our government officials?

I do not believe this man should retain his position. What kind of action will he attempt next?

Time to pick fresh greens

By BOB WILLIAMS
Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville

Time to pick a mess of greens. Mixed spring greens cooked with butter are best. Then too, curled dock tastes just like spinach and I like my spinach with vinegar. Of course, bacon fried crisp and crumbled into the greens offers another equally excellent taste-treat.

If you like the greens you buy in the fresh or frozen vegetable section of the supermarket, you will be delighted with the greens you collect from the wild. The easiest to collect right now are the dock and dandelion greens.

First, find the greens. Any open field or grassy area along roadsides will supply you with more than you need. Most of you know dandelions, so start there.

Pick from the green freshest center of the rosette of leaves. Wash these leaves well, especially when picked along roadsides. Being afraid of the lead and asbestos content of roadside plants, I always steer away from roadsides and find less accessible collecting spots. Much of the remaining dandelion plant is also usable. The fresh young buds are an excellent vegetable. Pick them before the yellow of the blossom shows. Wash them well in cold water. Place clean buds in water, salt lightly, and cook. The buds should be cooked as you would Brussels sprouts. The length of cooking time will depend on your taste for cooked vegetables. I like mine a little on the raw side, oriental style.

The overcooked vegetable loses much of its food value, so some simple steps can be taken to prevent this loss. First, don't overcook. Use small amounts of water; then find a use for the resulting juice. To cook small amounts of greens, have the water boiling and add the fresh plant parts. Bring back to a boil, test for tenderness. Cook more if needed. Some greens, especially late in the collecting season, require parboiling. Parboiling for greens is not necessary for tenderness, but for removal of the "strong" taste from the leaves. These leaves will have lost much of the important vitamins so you can cook them any way you want.

These greens can be cooked "southern" style using a chunk of fat back or bacon. If you do cook the greens as you would collards or turnip salad, then cooking for a long period is the rule.

Cooking for 30 minutes to an hour is the normal cooking time. Use very little water.

The dandelion root can also be used and can become an excellent coffee substitute. Dig up the roots and wash well. Arrange in a flat pan and place in the oven at 200 to 250 degrees Fahrenheit. Heat until the root is dry and all moisture removed. The root will be brown inside and snap in half when it is ready. You can't hurt the root if it is a little over-dried.

Just don't burn the roots; it's a lot of work to collect them. The dried roots can be ground to coffee-ground size and boiled as you would coffee. It's not coffee, but an interesting concoction.

52 on strike at Jennison-Wright

Fifty-two members of Local 2963 of the Carpenters and Joiners Union went on strike Wednesday after the union voted in a special session Tuesday afternoon to reject a new three-year contract offer at Jennison-Wright Corp., 900 Twenty-second St.

Picket lines were set up Wednesday morning. A union spokesman said the contract expired at 12:01 a.m. April 1.

The dispute basically involves wages although some fringe benefits are involved.

The union said the offer involved 55 cents per hour increase the first year with an additional 5 cents for classified persons, 45 cents per hour and an additional 5 cents for classified personnel the second year and 35 cents with the additional 5 cents for the third year.

The offer was rejected by "an overwhelming majority" according to the union spokesman.

At the plant a spokesman said the plant was closed down today pending further negotiations. No further meetings are scheduled at this time, he said.

Sludge management study is completed

The Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission has concluded an intensive one-year research effort focusing on utilization of sewage sludge—the solids product of the wastewater treatment process—as a fertilizer and soil amendment.

Funded by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency as a part of the 208 Continuing Planning Program for Area-wide Water Quality Management in Madison, Monroe, and St. Clair Counties, the accompanying report is entitled Area-wide Sludge Resource Management Program, Phase I.

The document discusses social, environmental, and economic impacts of sludge application to land, applicable Federal and State regulations; current sludge disposal practices at local wastewater treatment facilities; and various alternative techniques designed to maximize management of sludge as a valuable resource rather than a troublesome waste.

The input of farmers, agricultural advisors, waste treatment operators, city and consulting engineers, and a government representatives proved invaluable to the shaping of the Phase I report. The basic alternatives presented are these:

- (1) No Action, in which external economic and regulatory pressures are counted on eventually to maximize sludge utilization;
- (2) Individual Plans for Wastewater Treatment Plants, i.e., development of plan for land application of sludge tailored to the unique requirements of each facility, including tentative costs, implementation schedules, potential funding sources, and marketing procedures;
- (3) Regionalization of sludge management: based upon the demonstrated success of regional wastewater treatment, some municipalities might desire to centralize their sludge handling practices. As an alternative, cost estimates and an implementation schedule are included.

With publication of the Phase I report, SIMAPC is initiating Phase II of the program. Continuing for approximately one year, Phase II will concentrate on selection, refinement, and implementation of one of the aforementioned alternatives.

Comments and reactions to the Phase I report are being solicited from 208 Designated Management Agencies (DMAs) affected by the program. A Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) is being formed to provide more specialized input into the selection-refinement-implementation process.

DMA and TAC contributions will be incorporated into the final report, detailing an acceptable, implementable sludge management alternative which attempts to maximize utilization. Simultaneously, SIMAPC will execute an intensive marketing effort designed to stimulate interest among potential sludge users.

This effort will embrace development and distribution of a brochure summarizing the effects of land application of sludge, meetings with agricultural groups, news releases to area papers, and other public involvement as necessary. The end result will be the establishment of a functional groundwork for institution of land application at whatever time the DMA deems appropriate. For more information concerning the Area-wide Sludge Resource Management Program, interested persons may contact Tom Davis of SIMAPC, 344-4250.

A PERSONAL MESSAGE TO THE CITIZENS OF MADISON

Dear Residents:

On behalf of the current City Administration I would like to convey to you our appreciation for the overwhelming support and confidence you have shown in us during the past ten years.

We believe our community has undergone many major improvements during the past decade — both those initiated by the City as well as the overall expression of pride in our town by our residents, businesses and civic groups, who have cleaned-up and fixed-up their properties so Madison can be a more attractive town in which to live and work.

We feel our administration has been very active during the past ten years by its development and administration of the many projects and services that make our City second to none in the entire United States.

We are happy we have been given the opportunity to represent you and acquire the experience and knowledge necessary to chart the future course of our community. We believe our capabilities and leadership qualifications have been well proven by the major improvements that have taken place during our terms in office.

We also believe that a truly dedicated and sincere candidate for political office would work toward the betterment of his community every day of the year, and not just the two or three months that precede the election. Good qualified candidates can campaign on their own merits and qualifications and do not have to resort to the criticism of their opponents.

In conclusion we would like to restate our appreciation for the confidence and support you have shown to us in the past, and the pride you continually elicit in our great community. We ask that you continue to support our current City Administration by casting your vote for the Citizen's Improvement Party on April 7, 1981. The polls are open from 6:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M. on election day.

Teachers meet in workshop

Community Unit District 9 speech and language therapists, resource teachers, first grade and kindergarten teachers expressed appreciation to B. J. Davis and the members of the Board of Education for their approval and support of an after-school, in-service workshop held at Granite City High School North. Through arrangements of Gilbert Wamsley, members of the workshop met once a week after school for two hours in a North High classroom.

The workshop, which dealt with language deficits in school-age children and its relationship to learning and reading skill, came to its completion in March. It was organized early in November by Dixie Engleman, Pathology and Audiology, SIU and Linda Knog, speech therapist, Granite City. Dr. Engleman scheduled speakers for each of the nine sessions who provided insight into the complex areas of language development and auditory perceptual problems.

Speakers were: Jean Meinstrup, SIU; Dorothy Stickles (Title I, Roxana), Virginia Armbruster (Early Childhood, Alton), and Monti Dixon, (Belleville Area, Special Education District). Special thanks were given to Larry Dew, special education, Region I, for his time and effort in providing this opportunity for teacher in-service.

Although the workshop was originally designed for special education, anyone interested could attend. An agenda sheet was available by inquiry through Region I office, speech and language therapists, and by contacting Linda Knog. Various memos were circulated to teachers when a session might be of particular interest to them and the grade level with which they were working.

Graduate at SIUE capping

Forty-three student nurses who completed their course of studies during the winter quarter at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were "capped and pinned" in ceremonies sponsored by the SIUE Student Nurses Association.

Betty Aubuchon and Barbara Heister, both instructors at the School of Nursing, were the keynote speakers for the event.

Students had a choice of a faculty member, friend or relative for capping and pinning.

The students will receive a bachelor of science degree in nursing from the University. Among students graduating were Diane Scrump of Granite City and David Winkmeier of Madison.

Q. It seems that each month the new consumer price index is awaited with great anticipation. How should I view the index as an individual consumer?

A. As an individual consumer, the best view to take of the consumer price index is probably a critical one. Although a statement like, "The same goods and services which sold for $100 in 1967 sells for $230 today," does make a point concerning the ravages of inflation, it is misleading in that the goods and services bought today are not the same as those bought thirteen years ago. In formulating the CPI, figures are gathered from a number of geographic areas, some figures are weighted while others may be distorted, although not arbitrarily. Thus, your best individual indicator is your own "CPI" derived from past records. Your financial advisor is a good source of information on how to budget using your own "CPI."

Oiler comeback ties Warriors

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record
WOOD RIVER — Winning close games are always exciting, but you'd think after a while, a runaway victory would help your team's confidence.

There was nothing ego-building about the Granite City South Warriors' non-conference contest with Wood River here yesterday. South hit the ball, but so did the Oilers. South blew a 7-2 fourth inning lead and darkness allowed Wood River to pull out a 10-1 tie.

For the first time all year, it looked like South was going to have an easy time of it. No pressure, just go out and beat the pants of somebody. Head coach John Modica had visions of such a happening, too. He can always dream, though. Playing their usual style of catch-up, the Warriors spotted Wood River a one run margin. Mickey Dorsey plugged a two-out shot up the right-centerfield gap and scouted around the bases for a home run in the first inning. South was not to be outdone. No, not today. Receiving an RBI from Ken Wilson and a pair off Troy McElroy's bat, South scored four times in the third inning. But the Warrior's weren't done. Dave Modrusic provided a sharp shot down the left field line in the fourth and South, after three and a half innings, was looking at a blow-out. It looked comfortable at least. "I think they (South) thought they had it won," said Modica. "We just can't hold leads. Or else it seems that way. I'm really at a loss for words." The next few innings said it all.

Just as quickly as South had built a lead, Wood River managed to tear it down. The Oilers chased starting pitcher Jody Fenton with four runs of their own in the fourth and added three more in the fifth off of Mike Zukas. The advantage had changed hands and the Warriors were faced with a 9-8 deficit.

The Warriors fought back to grab the lead again in the sixth with a pair of runs. Rick Daily came up with one of the RBIs. But, on Scott Greathouse's base hit, Daily tried to stretch his progress to home and Wood River executed a perfect relay from the leftfielder to the pitcher, to the catcher to nail Daily.

"We got the timely hits, we ran the bases well and we came back," said Modica. "We just didn't get the pitching again. It's every frustrating. I battle every inning."

Boyd to spike for SIU Salukis next fall

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South standout Chris Boyd will be traveling to Carbondale to continue her athletic career next fall.

Boyd, one of the best female athletes ever to play at South High, has accepted a full-ride scholarship to play volleyball at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale next season. An all-around performer in three sports, Boyd led the Lady Warriors to outstanding seasons in volleyball and basketball this school year. She is also the starting catcher for the softball team, which began its season last night at Wood River.

The list of schools that wanted Boyd to wear their uniforms next season is long. It included the University of Illinois, the University of Missouri and the University of Kentucky. Illinois was interested in her basketball skills.

But Boyd eventually decided on SIU-Carbondale. "They've got a good volleyball program and have had a good record over the years," said Boyd. "I went to (volleyball) camp there last summer and I liked

"Besides," she said. "I wanted to play for a winner."

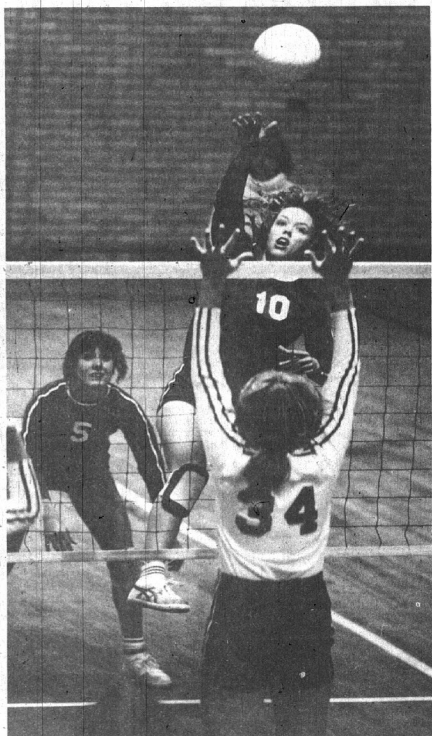

The Salukis are winners. They have long been a power in the midwest and the nation in volleyball. "They play in the USVBA," said Boyd, referring to SIU's role in the United States Volleyball Association. "That makes it just about year-around volleyball."

After the collegiate season ends, SIU's team stays together to compete in USVBA matches as a club team.

In both her junior season, Boyd led Granite City South to the district championship and the finals of the Edwardsville Class AA Regional. This past season, she led the Lady Warriors to the district title, regional championship and the sectional tournament.

Why volleyball, and not one of the other sports she excels in? "It's my best sport," Boyd said. "I think

Kahoks win home run derby from Stealers

By RICK WELLE
for the Press-Record

COLLINSVILLE — Collinsville's 4-1 victory over Granite City North yesterday afternoon at Fletcher Field here may have looked easy, but the Stealers weren't going to be anyone's April fool.

The Kahoks did manage to come out on top in two vital areas of the game — home runs and strike outs. Senior Todd Miller led off the bottom of the first inning with a four-bagger about 340 feet to right center and senior A. G. Dunaway knocked a two-run homer about 350 feet to left centerfield in the second inning.

North's Keith Flaughter cranked one up about 570 feet deep over the right centerfield fence in the sixth inning for the Stealers' only run of the game.

"They had two and we only had one (home runs)," said North coach Bob Stegmeyer. "The difference was they had one PLUS they had one with a man on base."

The second key was senior righthander Rod Woods' eight strikeouts for the Kahoks. Woods, now 2-0 on the season, has struck out 19 batters in 16 innings of work. "Woods did a good job," said Stegmeyer, with a healthy chew of tobacco to one side of his mouth. "We really haven't been striking out that much this year." He said Woods' sneaky fastball and sharp breaking ball kept most of the North hitters off balance.

Paul Eads started and absorbed the loss for the Stealers. In addition to the two home runs, Eads gave up an unearned run in the second inning. Collinsville's Kent Vartanian singled and scored when Eads threw wildly trying to pick him off at first base. Eads gave up five hits, walked two and struck out one before Dan Patterson relieved him in the bottom of the fifth.

"All in all it was a good ball game," Stegmeyer said. "We've got along way to go before we're good. But we're aggressive at the plate and we've been playing good defense."

"The thing that hurts us is pitching depth. Today we had to bring Patterson, who's our third baseman, and then (sophomore Vince)

Mitchell and he's a catcher," he said.

The Stealers had three errors to Collinsville's two. However, it was a heads-up play by senior Robert Sanabria in left field that shut down a late threat by the Stealers.

With one out, Flaughter popped his home run in the top of the sixth inning. Woods then ran into trouble when he walked catcher Darren DePew and gave up a single to Carl Luehmann after making Mark Kessler force DePew at second base.

Designated hitter Kevin Hayes got ahead of a Woods fastball and ripped a line drive to left. Sanabria fought off the bright sun and cracked down the ball to close off North's last threat.

"Sanabria made a heck of a play on that line drive," Stegmeyer said. "You can't ask a kid to do more than that."

The men left on base in the sixth inning by North were just two of nine stranded by the Stealers. Collinsville left four on base.

"They're a good hitting ball club," Stegmeyer said of the Kahoks. "I think we pitched pretty well to them."

Woods gave up five hits and four walks as he completed his second game. "It was another good game for Rod," said Collinsville coach Russ Keene. "When he throws that curve ball for strikes, it makes a big difference."

Collinsville is now 5-2 and North is 3-2.

Cougars break Mizzou's streak

the Press-Record

COLUMBIA, Mo. — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville baseball Cougars halted the University of Missouri's 16-game winning streak here yesterday with an 11-7 victory in the first game of the doubleheader at Simmons Field.

Missouri came back in the second game to take an 18-4 victory.

Mike Stewart of SIU-E had four RBIs, including a double with the bases loaded in the third inning. The Cougars scored five runs in that inning. Ted Smith was the winning pitcher for SIU-E.

In the opener, the Cougars scored two runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. Mizzou took the early lead with a pair of runs in the bottom of the first. The Tigers came back to tie it in the bottom of the third with three runs, but the Cougars put the game out of reach with its later-inning runs.

In the second game, Mizzou got home runs from Bill Hance and Rich Weisner. Shane Fairbanks was the Tigers' hitting star.

He stretched his consecutive hitting streak to 18 in going 3-for-4 at the plate. Fred Ambus was also 3-for-4 for Mizzou.

SIU-E's Joe Silkwood (2-1) took the loss. But he didn't do all that badly. The nine runs scored in the second inning by the Tigers were unearned. Mizzou added five more runs in the fourth and two in both the fifth and sixth innings. The Cougars were out-hit by the Tigers 14-10, but had a 13-11 edge in the first game.

The Cougars' record on the season is now 9-9.

In Good Spirits!
Chablis, perhaps the best known white wine, is often replacing the traditional cocktail because of its light, slightly dry and fruity taste. It is a cooler on the waitline and pocketbook than the conventional highball. True Chablis, a white burgundy is produced in vineyards which encircle the village of Chablis located about 110 miles from Paris. More common to the U.S. is the domestic Chablis, a generic made from a blend of several grape varieties similar to those grown in France but which may be grown in New York or California. As with other light bodied wines, Chablis is best when young and does not keep well after a year. For a quick, easy refreshment try a Western Spritzer. First, fill a 5-oz. wine or fizz glass with ice. Measure approximately one-third Chablis to two-thirds club soda. Pour Chablis first and add soda. Top this low-colored, highly refreshing drink with a lime squeeze.

Clark powers South

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South's Mark Clark blasted a three-run homer here Monday to power his team to a 3-2 victory over the Roxana Shells in a non-conference game.

It was Clark's blast in the fourth inning against Roxana that provided all the runs South needed.

It seems to be a pattern with the Warriors to fall behind early. They must like to play catch-up. Roxana gave them the opportunity. Putting together a walk, a sacrifice, a base hit and double, the Shells surged into a first inning 2-0 lead. But, that was the opening inning and Warriors starting pitcher Randy Cann was just getting warmed up.

Roxana wouldn't threaten again until the final frame as Cann struck out eight batters and allowed just five hits. South collected only two hits in the game, but it was Clark's rip with George Jarvis and Phil Modrus on base that gave South the victory.

Althoff no-hits Trojans

BELLEVILLE — Belleville Althoff pitcher Mark Gehrs threw a no-hitter here Tuesday afternoon to lead the Crusaders to a 2-1 victory over Madison.

Madison got a good pitching effort itself. Ken Briggs fired a three-hitter at Althoff. But Gehrs was just too much for the Trojans.

Gehrs, a junior right-hander making his first start of the season, struck out five Madison batters and walked five in his seven innings of work. Briggs struck out six Crusaders and walked eight.

Althoff scored a run in both the first and second innings. Madison's only run came on a throwing error by the Crusaders in the fifth inning. Althoff had four errors to the Trojans' three.

Trojans take third dual meet victory

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

RED BUD — The Madison Trojans could be on the right track. The MHS boys track team used a clutch performance by its 1600 meter relay team here Tuesday for a thrilling 75-70 dual meet victory over Red Bud, its third dual meet victory of the season. Going into the 1600 (the last event of the meet), the two teams were tied 70-70.

Madison had some trouble early in the season. But according to head coach Charles Steptoe, there were some reasons. "Our first meets were with double-A 'large' schools," he said. "That, combined with the fact that we're having problems getting some people out for track gave us problems."

"We started out with about 21 signed up for track, but with absences and injuries, there were a couple times we took only 11 or 12 guys at meets."

Madison is a single-A school, with an enrollment of less than 750.

The 1600 meter relay team of Raymond Price, Elmer Collins, Charles Fuller and Bernard Harper came through in the clutch for the Trojans. Their winning time in the event was 3:49.0. But then, Madison did a pretty good job in the relays — it won them all.

The Trojans' 3200 meter relay team of Tryone Manzy, Santos Howard, George Leonard and Price won its event with a time of 9:33.5. The 400 meter relay was won by Madison in a time of 45.9 seconds. Squad members are Fuller, Dixon, Shawn Brown and Richard Borney. Madison's 800 meter relay squad completed the sweep. Tryone Branch, Brown, Manzy and Harper won in 1:28.3.

As it turned out, Madison needed every one of those relay event victories. Even though the Trojans were able to win several more events, Red Bud's Musketeers chalked up enough second and third places to draw into a tie heading into the last event.

In the 100 meter dash, Madison's Fuller came in first in a time of 11.8 seconds. Teammate Branch was third in 12.0. Leonard was the winner of the 800 meter run in 2:16.1. Borney won the 400 meter run in 53.2 seconds. Fuller was second in 54.4.

Darnell Dixon was the 300 meter hurdler in 28.7. Borney won another event in a time of 23.2. Brown was third in 24.7.

Santos Howard finished second in the 1600 meter run in 5:28.7. In the 110 meter high hurdles, Madison's George Leonard was second in 21.1. Red Bud's Derwin was the winner in 18.2. Red Bud's Delre won the 3200 meter run in 12:36.6. Madison was not entered.

Madison won three field events. Bernard Harper was first in the shot out with a distance of 12.64 meters. Johnny Latham was first in the discus with a throw of 33.56 meters; and John Lewis won the high jump with a height of 5 feet, four inches.

Latham was second in the shot put at 11.93. In the triple jump, Darnell Dixon was third at 11.39 meters.

"We're young and have had some injuries," said Steptoe. "This is about the fourth time in about 10 or 12 years that we've had to have a rebuilding program at Madison High."

In the girls meet held at the same time as the boys meet, Red Bud came out on top 65-57.

Release players

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Park District has announced that baseball managers who had a team last year, but have since disbanded or dissolved, that they need to stop by the park office in Wilson Park and release their players from that team. Before any player on a disbanded team can play on another team this year, he must have a signed player release form. Otherwise, the player must remain on his previous team. Rosters, insurance fees and non-resident fees for Atom, Bantam, and Midget Teams are due in the park office Friday, April 10. The insurance fee is $3 per person and the non-resident fee is $7.50 per person.

Openings for teams still exist in all baseball leagues. The Park District is also looking for someone to coach a first year Atom Team. Anyone interested in coaching or additional information may contact the park office at 877-3059.

South netters have reason for high hopes

GRANITE CITY — The mood from Dick Harmon was optimistic. Confidence was the tone in everything he had to say. As head tennis coach at Granite City South, Harmon's attitude is more than justified. The Warriors' success in the past has been good enough reason. Harmon was even going as far as to predict an undefeated season in 1981.

That goal wouldn't be too far out of South's reach. The Warriors went 16-4 last year, won the Gateway East Conference with an 8-0 record, won their district and went to state. And that was with a junior squad. Those juniors are now seniors and the odds are definitely in South's favor.

"I thought we could be very good this season," said Harmon. "I was thinking of a season between 15-5 and 20-0." Harmon will have to change that a little. South definitely won't go unbeaten. The Warriors dropped their opening match of the year last week to the perennial tennis power of the last few years, the O'Fallon Panthers. The score of 9-0 gave South something to think about.

The Warriors rebounded strong, though, with victories over Belleville West, 5-0, and Jacksonville, 9-0. "West was a young ball team and Jacksonville didn't have much," said Harmon. "Maybe the Warriors will be better off, because Belleville East slapped South with a 5-1 loss on the road Tuesday."

The number four singles player, Ed Schmalbach, was the lone Warrior to record a win. He posted a 6-4 and 6-0 count over Larry Schutzenhofer of East. Despite the playing wind that made most of the matches difficult to play and the fact that South just didn't perform very well, Harmon felt the contest could have been closer. "The match could have gone 4-3 either way," said Harmon. Although losing, South did have a number of close matches. George Sykes, number three singles, went three sets with his opponents before losing out, 4-6, 7-5 and 6-7. South's third doubles team of Pat Theis and Don Cook made its match close, losing 4-6, 7-6 and 9-8.

Still another tight match had number two singles player, John Menendez dropping by a 3-6, 5-7 count.

Overcrowding in prison system grows

Although appropriations for the state corrections system have more than quadrupled in the last decade, the prison system is still filled to capacity and still more inmate increases are forecast.

State Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported in his Monthly Fiscal Report that five of the state's correctional centers (Joliet, Sheridan, Vandalia, Menard Psychiatric, and Vienna) were housing more inmates than their capacity in February and more than 2,000 inmates were given "early release" last year because of the serious overcrowding.

The special report on the State Department of Corrections is part of Comptroller Burris' regular monthly report which notes that State revenues are running $131 million behind expenditures so far this year and — in a close-up look at unemployment in the Illinois Economic Picture (Pages 9-10) — Burris traces the greatest unemployment to those cities with a broad manufacturing base. Ten major job areas are examined.

Here are some of the key findings of the special report on the Department of Corrections:

— Appropriations to the Department of Corrections have soared from $72 million in FY 1971 to $329.2 million in FY 1980, 4.6 times as much.

— The move to build more prisons and upgrade present prison facilities has accelerated in the last two fiscal years. In FY 1971, such permanent improvements represented only 2.6 percent of total expenditures. By FY 1980, 23.7 percent of the spending was earmarked for the new Graham (Hillsboro) and Centralia prisons and the old East Moline mental health center is currently under conversion to a correctional center.

— Inmate population in the state's 13 adult correctional centers and seven youth facilities averaged 11,939 in FY 1980. That's an increase of 4,664 or 64.1 percent since FY 1973, just eight years ago. Adult incarcerations are up, juvenile lock-ups have declined.

— In FY 1980, it cost $10,053 to maintain each adult inmate and $22,820 for each juvenile offender. Almost half of the Department of Corrections' total spending is for security.

Another Comptroller study two years ago pegged adult inmate costs at about $12,000 per resident but that study was based on appropriations rather than actual costs. Add the juvenile cost and the average climbs.

— The prison industry program has been reorganized and in FY 1980 yielded $4.7 million in revenue for the Working Capital Revolving Fund. Additional work-experience programs for the inmates include: Expanded farm operations, a new drapery facility, pants factory, vehicle restoration shop, data entry program, and a milk processing operation.

— The outlook is for still further increases in the prison population and the Federal courts could intensify the problem by limiting the number of inmates per cell.

— Although state revenues of $5.166 billion are up 7.4 percent over the first eight months of FY 1980, state expenditures of $5.297 billion have climbed 11.1 percent for the same period. As a result, revenues are $131 million less than what the State is spending so far this fiscal year.

A strong plus: There is still $112 million in the State's special funds which can be used to bolster steadily declining available balances in the General Funds.

A continuing negative: Sales tax revenues for the first eight months of FY 1981 are down 2.6 percent or $43 million from the same period last year as a result of both new tax relief and a still-sagging Illinois economy.

Another indicator: Despite the lack of snap in the state's economy and other negatives, the average daily available balance in the General Funds for the first eight months of FY 1981 was $385 million. That's down $133 million from the same period a year ago, but still well above the warning zone level of $200 million.

A statewide look at unemployment in Illinois shows clearly that those areas with a significant manufacturing base are sustaining the worst unemployment problems. Decatur and Rockford, for example, have major industrial bases and, as a result, significantly higher unemployment rates. Smaller communities with less dependence on manufacturing have smaller unemployment rates.

A positive sign: Illinois' jobless rate dropped from 9.0 percent in January to 8.3 percent in February, the lowest point since last May. Illinois still stands well above the national rate of 7.3 percent.

2 are charged with burglary

Kevin D. Julius, 20, of 1324 Carr St., and David Brown, 21, of 1325 Edwardsville Road, were arrested at their homes Monday and were charged with burglary.

They allegedly removed items valued at more than $2,450 from the home of Craig Turpoff in the 400 block of Edwardsville Road, last week after ransacking the home, pulling down ceiling tiles, dumping the contents of drawers onto the floor and removing furniture cushions.

Among the items stolen were a video tape player, two speakers, a component stereo set, liquor and about $130 cash.

Their bonds were set at $2,500 cash each.

AT BASE IN GEORGIA
Marine Pfc. John W. McGarity, son of Verna McGarity of 2208 Grand Ave., Granite City, has reported for duty at the Marine Corps Logistics Base, Albany, Ga. He is a 1977 graduate of Cahokia High School.

A WINNER. Mrs. Mable Marek, 36 Wilson Park Drive, is presented a gift of cash by Thelma Pyles, right, a downtown retailer, in connection with a downtown promotion. Mrs. Marek received $100, Mary Schmidt, 2153 Cleveland Blvd., was presented $50 and Ruby Millon, 1831a State St., received $25 from the promotion.

Advisory group plans fair

The Venice-Madison Advisory Committee on Mental Health and Other Social Concerns met at the Venice City Council Chambers. In attendance were Dianne Ratliff, Vice President, James Harrell, and Sandra Becker-Warden, who took part in a discussion regarding how to generate interest in the Advisory Committee as well as in the services provided by Mental Health Services in Granite City.

A suggestion was made to ask an ex-consumer of Mental Health Services to speak at church or at some other social group. The talk would include an explanation of the services that had been received at Mental Health Services.

Sandy Becker-Warden, from Mental Health Services, will contact some ex-consumers to see who might be interested in volunteering to speak.

Another suggestion was that two civic organizations, the Women of Achievement and the Progressive Club, be contacted to involve the organization members in jointly sponsoring or taking on a project such as the Community Resource Fair. The idea of a search committee for the purpose of recruiting membership on the Advisory Committee was discussed, as well as the idea of meeting with a group of the local ministers some Saturday morning to enlist their support and involvement.

There was continued discussion regarding offering some services to the housing projects in order to assess what problems or needs those individuals living in the projects have. The group discussed involving a student group, such as a civic or social studies class, in distributing questionnaires in Lee Wright Homes.

As a way to initiate interest, the Advisory group decided to sponsor a Mini Awareness Fair to be held on Thursday, April 9 at 7 p.m. at the Lee Wright Homes Recreation Center. The Fair would take on an open forum format wherein various questions would be addressed, such as how to control crime, how to prevent fires, drug abuse information, money management, parent-child communication issues, teenage pregnancy, and child abuse concerns. Representatives from the community, such as a police officer, fireman, school personnel, nurse, and social worker would comprise a panel and would respond to the questions asked. The goals of the fair would be to provide information as well as to assess the areas in which people feel the need for more in-depth information.

It was mentioned that the result of this awareness fair might be to provide future meetings wherein some of these topics, depending on interest, could be explored in more detail. A flyer will be developed and distributed door-to-door within Lee Wright Homes as well as given to the children at Blair School to take home to their parents. The flyer will include the various questions that will be addressed at the fair, and the names of the members of the Venice-Madison Advisory Committee.

TELEPHONE STOLEN

A telephone was taken from the interior of the home of William Kmucha, 2159 Benton St., and the cable television cable was stolen from the outside of the house early this week. It is believed an unlocked window was opened to gain entry.

Car hits fence at St. Elizabeth

Wilma Smith, 53, of 1632
Olive St., was treated at St.
Elizabeth Medical Center after her auto struck a chain link fence in the medical center's parking lot in the 2000 block of Iowa Street at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

The collision damaged approximately 20 feet of fencing. Mrs. Smith said she thought her auto was in reverse, but when she pressed the accelerator, the auto jumped forward into the fence.

She got out and walked around for several minutes, but then fell to the ground, and was taken by a Granite City ambulance to the emergency room. She was not injured, but was shaken by the accident. She was released.

IN TRAINING

Army Pvt. Lawrence
Shipp Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Shipp Sr. of 1122 Collette St., Madison, is attending basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

During the training, students receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading,
tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

CARTOGRAPHER

Alice Fyalka of
Granite City has completed the Cartographic
Orientation Program at the Defense Mapping Agency Aerospace Center. She received her Bachelor of Science degree in Geography from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1980. The Aerospace Center Orientation Program trains students in the use of cartographic terminology, methodology and concepts. The course, which last eight weeks, also familiarizes
the new cartographers with the Aerospace Center's mission and products, plus general mapping, charting and geodesy procedures.

State to enforce real estate listing pacts

The Illinois Department of Registration and Education has served notice that it intends to enforce strictly the law that all real estate listing service agreements have one — and only one — expiration date.

"We must have uniform and universal compliance with the law," Department Director Gary L. Clayton said.

estate brokers and real estate firms time to re-evaluate their current listing contract agreement forms, Clayton said, the starting date for strict compliance will be May 1, 1981.

According to the Illinois
Real Estate Brokers and Salesmen License Act, which the Department administers, no real estate licensee "shall obtain any written listing contract which does not provide for automatic expiration within a definite period of time."

the final expiration date shall be required, the law says, adding: "Any listing contract not containing a provision for automatic expiration shall be void."

In so acting, Director
Clayton is following the Real Estate Examining Committee's recommendation to clarify the legislative intent of the law in that "all listing agreements must list only one termination date with no extension clauses."

And, as the Committee recommended, Clayton said, the Department "will take action against any firm or individual broker whose listing agreement is not in strict compliance with the state requirements."

The problem, it was pointed out, has been that various real estate brokers and groups have interpreted the listing contract agreements provision in the law differently.

The Department's rules for administering the real estate license act requires that all exclusive listing agreements be written and contain the list price, identification of the property involved, the names of the broker and seller and the agreed basis or amount of commission and the time of payment.

"The duration of the contract should be clearly set forth," the rules state, adding:

"No registrant shall obtain any written listing contract containing a clause automatically extending the listing period."

Chamber's 2nd seminar to study business tax

A small business tax seminar, the second in a series of six seminars for small businesses conducted by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, is planned for Thursday, May 7, at 7 p.m. and reservations now are being accepted by the Chamber office at 876-6400.

The attendance will be limited to 50 persons and reservations will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

The first small business seminar, "Forecasting Profits and the Cash Flow, attracted 30 persons to view a two-part film outlining how to forecast profits and cash flow. They also participated in work study exercises in the forecasting process.

The small business seminars are co-sponsored by the Small Business
Committee of the Chamber and the federal Small Business Administration and the first presentation was provided by George Moore, chairman of the Senior Core of Retired Executives (SCORE) Committee.

According to James Livingston, executive director of the Chamber, "In a time when small business failures throughout the country are at an all-time high, the Small Business Committee of the Chamber of Commerce recognizes a need for an improved information base and management abilities for all small business operators.
The committee plans a series of six seminars this year to respond to this need."

Representatives of the Internal Revenue Service will assist in the May 7 presentation. The seminars are free to local businessmen and businesswomen.

Asked if the closing of the plant tax rate or the city's income, Schuler commented, "Obviously, it is one of

Pay hikes for park workers

A pay increase of 5 percent across the board for Granite City Park District employees granted by the Park Board last week, will become effective May 1, it was reported Wednesday.

The board, in addition to granting salary increases for regular employees, also increased the wage scale of seasonal employees from $1.95 to $2.35 per hour.

Pay step increases based on length of service also will become effective.

The park district's salary and those of the recreation board secretary, treasurer and attorney will follow the board's reorganization meeting later this month.

The board also voted to hire George Wilkins, former pool supervisor, as recreation supervisor for the summer.

Also hired was Billy Grote as recreational secretary. He replaces Ruth Smith who was commended by the board for her 12 years of service.

Relocate grade separations in MARGE rail project here

By LISA LUTZ
for the Press-Record

The St. Louis Metro Area Rail Gateway Enterprise (MARGE) has apparently reconsidered the location of new grade separations (underpasses and overpasses) in the Granite City area.

The original and costly studies from MARGE indicated that a grade separation was needed at Maryville Road at Route 203 (Nameoki Road).

MARGE representatives told concerned Granite City citizens at a public meeting Thursday night that after more extensive studies, it was decided that grade separations would be needed at West Pontoon Road, and possibly at Route 162, near Maryville Road, rather than at the Maryville-203 crossing near Granite City High School North.

MARGE, the planner for the major railroad relocation, has plans to reconstruct and relocate those railroad yards not operating at maximum efficiency.

The proposal will hopefully generate more railroad transportation and encourage present industry to stay. The plan incorporates numerous changes, including upgrading McKinley Bridge and the extension of Route 3 to Interstate 55-70.

Although this plan will hopefully generate more railroad traffic through the area, vehicular traffic would not be affected, as the trains would be able to move faster, with less yard switching. Presently, the yards cannot handle the volume of trains, which, as a result, are left standing on tracks for long periods of time.

The projected cost for the entire MARGE proposal is $670 million. Cooperation from the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) would be needed, as well as support from the government, to obtain federal money.

The FRA has indicated that it would finance $50 million and is in favor of the project. Other funding options include selling revenue bonds and using revenue from new industry.

Concerns of job losses were expressed by Granite City residents who are now working in various railroad-related jobs. Frank Madonia, deputy in chief for MARGE, informed them that this project requires Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) approval and there will be conditions of job security attached.

There are approximately 4,271 people working in railroad-related jobs and the ICC would guarantee those jobs for six years. After the six years, MARGE projected that only 27 persons could lose their jobs if no additional business is generated, but they feel this is highly unlikely.

Tyrene Pace of MARGE indicated other feasible uses for the land that would be cleared as a result of yard and railroad relocation. The Illinois riverfront could become the site of new housing developments, a sports stadium, a boat marina and a possibly an extension of the Jefferson Memorial Park.

A redevelopment corporation would be formed, so the tracts of land would be sold to developers in coordination with the redevelopment project. Charles Hammond, an engineer from MARGE indicated that, as new needs become evident, changes could be made even when the plans are finalized. "We're not slamming the doors on any options," said Hammond.

An estimated eight years is projected for the completion of this project and work could begin as soon as next year. When plans are complete, the draft will be available for public viewing and Madonia encourages the citizens who will be affected to express their concerns and appreciations for the project. "The business generated should provide a better economic environment," said Madonia.

Illinois representatives and congressmen were invited to the meeting, but none attended.

A CLOSE CALL. Granite City Fire Department shift commander Harry "Mick" Hillman holds a pair of safety glasses credited by firefighters for having saved the sight of Al Herzog, 67, of Troy, Ill., who was involved in an electrical explosion at Ravinelli's Restaurant in the American Village Shopping Center, Thursday morning. Herzog, an independent electrician, suffered second- and third degree burns to his hands and face, but experienced no loss of sight as a result of the accident. He was transferred to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital having been taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center initially.

Kindergarten registration

In announcing registration dates for next year's kindergarten classes, Granite City Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis today urged the cooperation of all parents of children who will start kindergarten in September.

"Registration of all such children this spring will enable the school district to anticipate more accurately both the space and personnel needed," he said.

Any child who will be five years of age on or before Dec. 31, 1981, is eligible to enroll in kindergarten.

Kindergarten classes are half-day sessions and are held at each elementary school.

A birth certificate and immunization record are to be presented at the time of registration. Hospital records are not accepted. These must be presented before actual attendance can begin in the fall, Davis added.

Illinois law states that no child may enter school for the first time without the following immunizations: whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles (measles), and rubella (3-day measles). Exceptions are made only for religious or medical reasons.

Physical and dental examinations are also required before attendance in kindergarten may begin. These forms are distributed to parents at the time of registration so that appointments for the exams can be arranged during the summer.

School nurses will be available at the time of registration to explain health regulations to parents and also to review the immunization record.

Registration days at the various elementary schools are as follows:

Monday, April 20: Pre-School Center (Logan Annex)
Tuesday, April 21: Emerson, Webster, Wilson, Johnson and Logan.

Thursday, April 23:

Froharty, Parkview, Lake and Maryville.
Registration will be from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 2:30 p.m. on the designated day.

The child being registered is to accompany the parent. Any questions concerning the registration can be answered by the principal at the neighborhood elementary school or by Vasil Eftimov, director of pupil personnel services, at the Board of Education office (876-6000).

Pre-school registration will be conducted during the same time as kindergarten registration. The only difference in requirements is the child will be four years of age on or before Dec. 31, 1981. The six elementary buildings qualifying for the pre-school program are Emerson, Marshall, Lake, Webster, Logan, Wilson.

Parents of students presently enrolled in pre-school are not required to fill out additional records sections. All records will be sent to the school where the children will attend kindergarten.

Also, presently enrolled students will be tested at the Pre-School Center for kindergarten placement. If the child is absent on the day of testing, the director of the Pre-School Center will be in touch with the family to arrange the makeup date. Any three- or four-year-old child, accompanied by a parent, can be registered at his or her neighborhood school for developmental screening.

Seek gas tax revision

Representatives Jim McPike (D-Alton) and Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) want to amend Governor Thompson's gas tax plan to prevent oil companies from passing on to consumers the five percent tax on gross receipts.

"Gasoline prices are already much too high and Thompson's gas tax proposal will only mean that we will have to pay more," McPike said.

"Our proposed amendment will require that the gross receipts tax be paid out of the enormous oil company profits rather than out of consumer's pockets," Wolf said.

In his speech to the General Assembly Tuesday, Thompson said the burden of his five percent tax and oil company gross receipts, which he said is needed to provide funding for Illinois mass transit and highways, would be shared by both the oil companies and the consumers.

"Although Thompson claimed that the oil companies could write off 46 percent of the gross receipts tax on their federal income tax, there is nothing in his plan to guarantee that the oil companies would not pass on to consumers the whole tax," McPike said.

"The Thompson tax plan is just a hidden tax increase for customers," Wolf said. "He should drop this deception and present his plan as it really is — an increase in the pump price of gasoline."

The two legislators said their amendment would protect the consumers by prohibiting the oil companies from passing the tax through to the consumer at the retail level.

"Although Governor Thompson made the arbitrary decision that such an amendment would be unconstitutional, we don't accept that reasoning," Wolf said.

"The constitutionality of similar prohibitions is being tested in courts in New York and Connecticut," Wolf said. "Until those cases are decided, no one can say absolutely this amendment is unconstitutional."

The two said they were willing to amend the Thompson proposal and let the Illinois courts decide the question of whether it is constitutional. Without the amendment, there is no doubt the consumer ultimately would pay the bill for the tax; let the courts decide, the two said.

Although the two Democrats said they had other problems with the Thompson proposal, they indicated that the amendment, which is supported by a coalition of several Chicago, suburban and downstate Democrats, was one of the first priorities in dealing with the Thompson tax plan.

Six Flags to open April 4

Six Flags Over Mid-America will open for its 10th anniversary year of family entertainment Saturday, April 4 at 10 a.m.

At that time, the 200-acre theme park will debut the "JetStream" looping roller coaster and a unique lineup of 10 new shows designed to entertain every member of the family. In addition, park officials have planned a special grand opening ceremony.

Six Flags will be open on Saturdays and Sundays only from April 4 to May 17. Beginning May 18, the park will be open Tuesdays through Sunday until Labor Day. Six Flags is closed on Mondays June 1 through August 17.

Six Flags offers a one-price admission to more than 100 rides, shows and adventures which guests may experience as frequently as they like during their visit.

and "Death Education: An Annotated Resource Guide." He has also edited several books on the subject of death and dying.

SIUE plans Hospice training in England

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a two-week work-study trip to a leading British hospice, June 27-July 11.

Sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education and the School of Humanities, the trip will include 10 working days at St. Luke's Nursing Home in Sheffield, England, approximately 200 miles north of London. Hospice units specialize in the control of severe pain and other distressing symptoms that usually accompany dying. The goal of the hospice is to maximize the quality of life that remains and to respond to the needs of the dying and their families.

Coursework will include a two-day orientation, at least one day each with the morning and afternoon work shifts on the in-patient nursing team, a chance to experience the overnight shift, a day with the hospice's day unit, a morning with the physical therapist, doctors' and medicine rounds for nurses, and individually scheduled time with the hospice's social workers, home-care staff, chaplain, volunteer director, administrators, and other personnel, as well as a debriefing period.

Study and nursing activities will be coordinated by Charles A. Coor, professor of philosophical studies at SIUE. Eight continuing education units will be granted to those participating in the trip, with the possibility of academic credit arranged for those who desire it.

Registration for the trip will be contingent on transportation costs and monetary exchange but should be under $1,200, Coor said. Registration will provide for one round-trip air fare flying directly from St. Louis to London, round-trip rail fare from London to Sheffield, and accommodations on a bed-and-breakfast basis for 13 nights within walking distance of the hospice. Lunches and dinners can be obtained at minimal cost from St. Luke's.

Individual arrangements can be made for those who wish to join the group in England or who wish to remain for a longer vacation.

Although the activity will mainly be a study-work trip, ample time will be set aside for sightseeing, shopping, and experiencing the British culture.

Sheffield is on the edge of the Derbyshire moors and near Chatsworth House, Haddon Hall and other historical sights. The walled city of York, with its medieval streets and ancient cathedral, is within easy reach for a day trip.

Professor Coor is well-known for his research in the field of death and dying, which he has taught at the University for the past six years. His publications include reviews, papers, and articles in the field of death, dying and bereavement, as well as contributions to "Dying: Facing the Facts" jobs next year grew to 22 Thursday night as the Madison Board of Education voted to send letters to 13 tenured teachers, warning them that they may not be rehired next school year.

Previously, the board sent similar letters to all nine non-tenured teachers. Notification at this time to teachers whose jobs may be eliminated next year is required by law. Teachers who are not sent such notices must be given positions next year.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff told a public hearing before the regular meeting Thursday night that the board hopes most of the 22 teachers sent honorable dismissal letters can be rehired next year, but declining enrollment, a possible 25 percent cut in federal funding for some special programs and a reduction or stagnation of state aid will require some cuts. He predicted that the greatest majority will be rehired.

The letters of honorable dismissal now have been sent to all Madison teachers with four years of tenure or less.

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP CITIZENS

I was one of the opponents of the present Town Board, who won in the last election. After taking office, I soon found they were all genuinely interested in working together for the Township and wanted my help. As another election drew near, I told them if I could not run with them, I would not run at all, because I knew I could not, in good conscience, work against them. I am happy that all of us who wanted to work together are still running together in this election. I sincerely hope you realize what I have, the "United With Progress" people are for you!

Tornado time is here again

There is no rhyme or reason to a tornado's erratic and destructive path. The most violent and deadly of nature's storms, twisters race across the ground at up to 70 mph and have killed 312 people since 1975. (Southwestern Illinois is one of the target areas.)

During 1979 alone, 852 tornadoes killed 84 persons, injured 3,077 and caused property damage "well in excess of one billion dollars," according to the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

Half of all tornadoes are spawned between March and May, as moist air from the Gulf of Mexico collides with cold, dry Canadian air. The resulting mass of rotating air spins between 150 and 500 mph, depending on the tornado's intensity.

A "warning" is issued once a tornado has been seen, often giving residents only minutes to seek safety.

"You probably won't be able to prevent damage to your home if the twister veers your way, but you can protect yourself and your family by acting quickly and correctly," an official says. He suggests familiarizing every member of the family with the following tips, given by the National Weather Service.

—Stay inside.
—If there is time, open all windows and doors of your home to equalize air pressure and prevent the house from exploding. However, stay clear of all windows as the tornado nears.

—Go to a basement or storm shelter if possible. Open any basement windows and take shelter away from them under heavy furniture.
—In apartments, houses or offices without basements or storm shelters, go to a first floor inner hallway, closet, doorway or windowless bathroom. Lying in the bathtub under a mattress is relatively safe shelter.

—Keep a tornado kit at your pre-determined shelter. The kit should include a flashlight, portable radio, supply of batteries, blankets and first-aid supplies.

—Don't attempt to pick up children from school. Most school buildings are safer than homes.

—Usually, it's unwise to try to outrun a tornado by car. Get out of your car and lie in a ditch with hands protecting your head. However, if you feel you must attempt an escape by car, drive away from the tornado's path at a right angle.

—If you live in a mobile home, seek other shelter immediately. (Even ditches are safer.) Damage can be minimized by securing the mobile home with cables anchored in concrete.

—Before a tornado threatens is the time to learn the safety tips. It's also the time to take some simple safeguards which could speed up insurance settlements should your home be damaged," the official adds. He recommends the following:

—Read and understand your insurance policy, making sure you have adequate coverage for your property's current replacement cost.

—Take, and regularly update, an inventory of your personal property so you and your insurance company can more accurately determine the extent of loss. Keep copies of the inventory and your insurance policy in a safe deposit box or other location away from the home.

—If your home is damaged, minimize further loss by making temporary repairs.

—Contact your insurance agent as soon as possible.

The Army has raised the maximum cash bonus for qualified enlistees choosing certain specialties to $5,000, according to Lieutenant Colonel Joseph M. Lukitch, U.S. Army, St. Louis District Recruiting Command commander.

The $5,000 bonus is available to qualified enlistees who join the Army for four years as infantrymen, indirect fire infantrymen, heavy sapper weapons crewmen, cannon crewmen, cannon fire direction specialists, fire support specialists, armor specialists or cavalry scouts.

The Army pays cash bonuses of $1,500 to $4,000 for an additional 35 specialties in fields including foreign languages, electronics, construction, field artillery and combat engineering.

The local Army recruiter has more information on the cash bonus program.

- ☆ Obtained nearly one million dollars in Federal and state funds and special grants to provide additional services without additional taxes.
- ☆ Efficiently managed your tax dollars by "Low Bid" purchases, investment of funds not immediately needed, etc.

Our Opposition Has:

- ☆ Little experience — six of the nine candidates had not attended a township meeting prior to two months ago.
- ☆ Presented half-truths concerning township expenditures while trying to justify irresponsible expenditures by their highway commissioner candidate.

How Can They Justify Their Candidates Performance?

- ☆ Well over one million dollars spent by the Highway Department during the past four (4) years from property taxes, motor fuel taxes, revenue sharing, etc., of over $190,000.00 spent from your property taxes in the 1979-80 Road Budget; approximately $9,000.00 actually purchased material used on your roads.
- ☆ Highway Department had over $65,000.00 at beginning of the term — Nine days into beginning of this fiscal year borrowed $45,000.00.

We Must Have A Responsible Highway Commissioner!

- ☆ Are the taxpayers of Nameoki Township ready for Partneyville, USA?
- ☆ Why are they so desperately wanting to control county, school district, city and township government? We share the same fears that many others have expressed concerning the large political power base being developed in this area.

$67 million distributed in tax replacement funds

Cheeks totaling $67.6 million in corporate personal property replacement taxes have been sent to local units of government as the second of eight payments to be made during 1981, according to J. Thomas Johnson, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The total distributed so far this year is $143.9 million—or more than a fourth of the $510 million expected to be distributed this year, Johnson said.

The replacement taxes, authorized by the Illinois General Assembly in August, 1979, substitute for funds lost to local governments when the corporate personal property tax was abolished by the 1970 state constitution.

The largest share of this replacement tax money—or 42 percent—goes to the state's 1,018 public school districts.

Coming in second in the amount received are the state's 1,281 municipalities, which receive 20 percent of the total. Next are the state's 102 counties, which receive a little under 9 percent; park districts, receive 5 percent; sanitary districts and junior college districts each receive nearly four percent; road districts and townships each receive under two percent.

Other districts, each of which received less than one percent of the total, include forest preserves, fire, library, airport, mass transit, hospital, conservation, TB, sanatorium, public health, mosquito, street lighting and water authority.

Under the new system, taxes are collected by the state revenue department and the money is distributed to the local governments.

Beginning in 1981, distributions are to be made eight times a year, rather than the quarterly schedule followed last year. Payments are scheduled for January, March, April, May, July, August, October and December.

The 1981 payments will be an estimated eight percent lower than the $553.9 million distributed during 1980. This decline, Johnson explained, is due to the combination of (1) a slowed economy and (2) a decrease in the tax rate on corporations (the rate went from 2.85 percent to 2.5 percent effective January 1, 1981).

The replacement taxes are: (1) a 2.5 percent income tax on corporations; (2) a 1.5 percent income tax on partnerships, trusts, and sub-chapter S corporations; and (3) a 0.8 percent tax on the invested capital of utilities.

Big Screen TV: Better, Cheaper

UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — About 1 percent of color television receivers sold in the United States this year will be big screen systems, but that will change dramatically, says Henry Kloss, who also predicts that "Americans will have 'viewing rooms' in their homes."

Kloss is a Boston manufacturer and investor whose designs helped make the big screen TV practical for the home. He told United Press International that at least 22 U.S. and foreign companies are making these receivers to sell for from $2,500 to $4,000 — the lowest price about three times as much as a good standard color receiver.

Kloss, who set out 13 years ago to adapt big screen TV to the home in the hope that it would provide incentive for better programming, thinks it has the potential right now to capture 5 to 8 percent of the unit home color TV market and a much bigger dollar share. General Electric Corp. has made virtually the same prediction.

"I am sure that would be enough to enable the big screen home viewers to have some influence in getting new works and program producers to do a better job," Kloss said.

HE THINKS big screen home TV will both help and benefit from the videodisc. Many of the movies and other programs recorded on videodiscs were intended for showing on huge theater screens or stages and just don't hold down to the scale of the standard television tube. He says the improvement in reproduction quality on a 5 1/2 by 4-foot home big screen is phenomenal.

Kloss has manufactured 30,000 home big screen receivers in the last dozen years but he concedes that most of them found their way to clubs and bars. But from now on most of the big screens will go into homes, he said, and the impact on the entertainment world will be substantial.

Home big screen TV is ideal for grand opera and any kind of entertainment that requires spectacular staging and scenery and large casts. The main elements of Kloss' original design for home big-screen television are three separate picture tubes for red, green and blue light waves and a picture projection tube using a telescopic principle. Some of his ideas are used in most of systems now on the market.

Kloss' firm, Kloss Video, which is opening a new plant that will increase its capacity tenfold, makes a big screen home TV receiver called Novabeam.

IT CONSISTS of a compact receiver-projector with three lenses in the front, from which the picture is projected on a screen from a distance of about nine feet. He said the picture is five times brighter as a typical movie and can be viewed in daylight. It is priced at just under $3,000.

He predicted families will set aside one room in the house, perhaps a basement or attic room, for big screen television.

Although it can be used for display of business and education, Kloss said that, in the present state of the art, big screen home TV is much better suited for colorful entertainment. The present systems will grow, for example, increase substantially the amount of text matter that can be satisfactorily transmitted and displayed on an ordinary TV receiver.

But Kloss said he believes specialized home big screen receivers can be designed to accept and display large amounts of text. That could have a big impact on the publishing industries, for example by eliminating use of paper and printing and eliminating shipping books and periodicals.

But that's all in the future.

Judy Evans to vie for pageant title

Judy Evans of Granite City will compete against other young women from different sections of the state for the title of Miss Continental Illinois in a pageant to be held Aug. 7 and Aug. 8 at the Hyatt Regency-O'Hare, Chicago.

Statewide competitions will be taking place in all 50 states throughout the summer months, with the winner in each state pageant competing in the Miss Continental United States Pageant in April 1982 at Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Evans, 18, is a senior at Granite City High School South and plans to attend Western Illinois University in the fall.

Drug awareness program offered here on May 4

"Information Alert," a free program designed to make parents, teachers and others graphically aware of the drug and alcohol abuse problems facing youths today, will be offered in Granite City May 4 by the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission Mobile Team.

The team will be here at the invitation of a joint committee representing the Granite City mayor's office and police department, School District Nine, the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and its Crime Prevention Committee, the Granite City Ministerial Alliance and the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency.

One portion of the presentation is the showing of the shocking film, "Dead is Dead," and a discussion of the film. A spokesman warns that the film is graphic and parents should consider obtaining a baby-sitter for younger children. However, mature high school and even junior high school students could benefit from seeing the film.

However, the program is designed more toward giving parents, teachers, school administrators, social workers, ministers, police officers and other important information on how to deal with alcohol and drug abuse, a spokesman said.

"It has been well received in many cities and towns in Southwestern Illinois and has attracted large crowds, even in smaller cities, he noted.

Local officials are invited to speak, along with state officials, during the program. Law enforcement speakers here May 4 will be J.W. "Skip" Bennett, training coordinator of the SILEC Mobile Team, Jim Nichols, director of the

Absentee voting opens

On April 7th, voters will cast their ballots for both municipal and township officers in all cities, villages and townships of Madison County. In addition, library board directors and park district commissioners will be elected in specific communities.

Voters have been advised by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles that all voting will be on the basis of the regular precinct lines, and persons will vote at the regularly designated polling places used in the November general election. Miss Bowles suggested that voters watch the newspapers for any possible polling place changes that might be necessary.

In person absentee voting is now available in the office of the County Clerk as well as in the following local election officials' offices:

Granite City Clerk - 2000 Edison Ave., Granite City; Madison City Clerk - 1529 Third St., Madison; Pontoon Beach Village Clerk - 3910 Highway 162, Madison.

Nameoki Township Clerk - 4250 Highway 162; Chouteau Township Clerk - N. Thorngate, Granite City; Venice Township Clerk - 1502 5th St., Madison.

The office of the county clerk will be open from 9 a.m. until noon on Saturday, April 4 to accommodate those persons who wish to vote in person.

All absentee balloting, by mail, must be through the office of the County Clerk. The last day, on which applications must be in the office by 5 p.m. on that date.

In addition, Miss Bowles suggested that voters take their new pink card (certificate of registration) with them to the polls on election day. However, failure to do so does not cause a person to be ineligible to cast a ballot.

The judges of election will be given special training at a series of briefing sessions to be conducted by Miss Bowles, April 1 through April 4, at various locations throughout the county. Regular elections provisions will be reviewed, but special emphasis will be given the Consolidated Election Laws.

Need more rate hikes—Bell

Illinois Bell invested nearly $684 million to maintain and improve telecommunications services in 1980, an increase of $50 million from 1979, and Drew Gilchoff.

Her sponsors for the Miss Continental Illinois Pageant are Tacole owner Joe Morrison, Explorer Post 10-33, and Drew Gilchoff.

"I think with the experience I've gained in the other pageants, I stand a good chance of coming out ahead in this competition," Miss Evans commented.

Four youths from the Nameoki United Methodist Church will attend an annual Youth Conference at McKendree College, April 4 and 5, two as voting delegates and two as alternates.

Each youth will attend two workshops on "Youth Ministries Within the United Methodist Church."

They will make major decisions in the program for the Methodist youth in the Southern Illinois Conference for the year 1982, and will vote on three service projects.

Featured throughout the weekend will be J. David Stone, author, teacher, youth leader from Shreveport, La., and the Covenant Players.

Delegates are Bev Tester and Tim Benaix. Bev and Tim are also members of the East St. Louis District Youth Council. Alternates are Beth Hein and Karla Taylor. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ken Perkins.

Other speakers will include Jill Brandenberger, coordinator of the Chemical Dependency Unit of Weldon Springs Hospital in St. Charles, Mo., Mrs. Jean Schram, coordinator of youth services for the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency, and James Dumont, principal of Granite City High School South.

The event will be in the auditorium of Tri-City Park Tabernacle, Maryville Road at Clark Avenue, and the host pastor, Dr. Thurnace York, also is to speak.

INDIA UNREST Anti-Muslim violence broke out in India in March 22, 1964.

President Charles Marshall said in the company's annual report.

The company reported an all time high of 8,556,000 phones in service at year's end. The telephone network handled a record average of 45 million calls made by Illinois Bell customers each weekday in 1980.

Despite these achievements, the company's net income decreased 1.2 percent to $256.2 million from the previous year's record of $259.3 million. Marshall reported that the earnings drop reflected overall weakened economic conditions.

"Considering the economic climate, we are pleased with our 1980 financial performance, but we are not satisfied," Marshall said. "Even though we face increasing competition in nearly all our products and services, we will spare no effort to make 1981 significantly better."

In November, the Illinois Commerce Commission granted Illinois Bell $159 million of the $221 million the company had sought in general rate increases. This was the company's first general increase in rates for local calling plans in six years.

The increase in revenues fell short of what the company told the commission it needed to fully combat inflationary cost increases.

"If inflation continues at an unacceptably high level, as seems likely in the near term, we will have to seek further increases to maintain the quality service our customers want," Marshall said.

Marshall noted that Illinois Bell's productivity improved by four percent in a year when the nation's business community experienced a decline in productivity. "This is a major reason the price for telephone service remains as low as it does," Marshall said.

During the year Illinois Bell negotiated new labor agreements with unions representing about 26,000 employees. The three-year contracts provided for immediate wage increases and benefit improvements, along with provisions for additional improvements and cost-of-living adjustments in 1981 and 1982.

Wild slug-fest won by Steelers, 18-16

ST. LOUIS — Granite City North head baseball coach Bob Stegmeyer was worried that his team wasn't hitting the baseball. He knew the offensive power would be limited this year. It was confirmed when the Steelers collected just eight hits in their first two games. But, North's contest with Hazelwood West here Saturday gave Stegmeyer reason to believe that there might still be hope. The Steelers used a gusty tail wind a little better than West to bang out 18 hits and stage a remarkable comeback from behind victory. In a hitless battle, North out-slugged West, winning 18-16. The pitching staff for both clubs probably thought it could do better by tossing the ball underhand. "It was a very bad day for pitchers," said Stegmeyer. "They were throwing right into a strong wind and they were very ineffective. It took away the fast balls and was a definite advantage to the hitters."

Hazelwood seem to profit from Mother Nature early as it tagged starting North hurler Rich Takmajian with a barrage of nine runs in the opening inning. And the Steelers thought it was going to be their game when they led off the contest with three runs of their own. "Takmajian just couldn't get the ball over the plate," said Stegmeyer. "He didn't throw strikes." Maybe the wind didn't let him, but West didn't mind.

North started off its own trouble as it booted the first grounder for an error. Takmajian followed as he hit the game won with a two run lead heading into the last inning. It was sadly mistaken. The Steelers still had a rally up their sleeves.

"The closest North drew on the West margin was one run second, the Steelers came up a four run out-burst in the third, three in the fifth and two more in the sixth frame. But, they still found themselves trailing by two, 18-13. "This was the wildest game I have ever been involved in on any level of coaching," said Stegmeyer. "I have never seen that much scoring and yet it was still a close game."

at 9-8. But, it finally got over that bump in the seventh inning. Closing the gap completely, 15-15, North had the chance for its first lead when the bases loaded. Steeler Dan Patterson was at the plate and Stegmeyer made a last minute decision.

"I decided to have Danny bunt the ball and gamble on the suicide squeeze," said Stegmeyer. "Ordinarily I would let Danny hit in a situation like this, but he hasn't been hitting the ball very well lately. I took the gamble, because he is a good bunter and it was a good idea in this situation. All you can ask is that the batter doesn't pop the ball up or miss it."

Patterson didn't do either one of those. Instead he laid down a perfect bunt. On the play at the plate, the umpire called the sliding Jeff Puryear out, but corrected his call when the West catcher dropped the ball.

The Steelers were fortunate to have their hitting star of day at the plate following Patterson. Rick Buer had already smashed a two-run homer, knocked in another run with a single and was credited with yet a fourth RBI when he was walked with the bases loaded.

With runners in scoring position again at second and third, Buer delivered his fifth and sixth runs batted in. He drilled another hit, his third of the game, scoring Rob Chapman and Brian Corey. But, if you can believe it, North was not out of the woods yet.

"The game is never over until the last out of the last inning," said Stegmeyer. "We were three runs ahead going in the bottom of the seventh and I was sacred to death." The Steeler hearts took some extra beats as West used back-to-back doubles to score a run and then loaded the bases.

However, the winning run was stranded on first when

"I can't say we are out of our slump," said Stegmeyer. "We could get shut out the next game. Hitting is contagious. On a hot day, a lot of the balls hit could have been caught. I still can't believe we were down 9-3 and won 18-16."

"We could have given up after that first inning, but I was pleased that we came back from adverse conditions. I hope it builds their confidence. Maybe it will be the turning point for us."

Marist made good on its opportunity and went on to score four runs in the fourth inning. "It was the first time we had seen pitching, but you can't do much if you can't hit the ball," said Modica. "We had our chances."

South wasn't so fortunate here Thursday night in its season home opener. Playing good competition is fine, but taking on two state title holders in as many nights is pushing you're luck.

The Warrior's lost to Chicago Marist 7-1 in their first game of the year. The Redskis, however, were the Class AA state champions in 1978. Their power was too much for South.

Managing just one hit is not going to help matters much, either. The Warrior's cracked only one hit in the game and it came in the second inning when Daily doubled. He came around to score on Clark's bounce that was fumbled by Marist for an error.

South was still in the game, too, as it cut the Redskin's margin in half, at 2-1. "We were in the game until the fourth inning," said Modica. "But, we made one big mistake. We let a fly ball drop in the outfield with two outs and nobody on. It just opened the gates for them."

The Warrior's lost to Chicago Marist 7-1 in their first game of the year. The Redskis, however, were the Class AA state champions in 1978. Their power was too much for South.

Managing just one hit is not going to help matters much, either. The Warrior's cracked only one hit in the game and it came in the second inning when Daily doubled. He came around to score on Clark's bounce that was fumbled by Marist for an error.

South was still in the game, too, as it cut the Redskin's margin in half, at 2-1. "We were in the game until the fourth inning," said Modica. "But, we made one big mistake. We let a fly ball drop in the outfield with two outs and nobody on. It just opened the gates for them."

Marist made good on its opportunity and went on to score four runs in the fourth inning. "It was the first time we had seen pitching, but you can't do much if you can't hit the ball," said Modica. "We had our chances."

Drop opener to Marist Warriors slide by New Lenox

By TOM SCHOCKER of the Press Record GRANITE CITY — It may have been only the second game of the season, but the way the Granite City South baseball team reacted after its thrilling 6-5 come-from-behind victory over New Lenox-Providencia of Chicago here Friday, you would have thought it had just won the state championship.

After Warrior head coach John Modica had shook hands with the Celtic team members following the game and was heading back to the locker room, he had a big smile. He had every right to be happy. Beside it being his first head coaching victory, New Lenox came into the game with a pretty good reputation. The Celtics had won the Class A state title in the 1978.

"I like those type of games," said Modica. "It was really fantastic and I'm happy for the Celtic. I hope this will motivate them, now."

The way the contest was progressing, it looked like, if nothing else, it was going to be a good practice for the Warrior's. They hung tight, though, and traded the seventh and eighth innings. Their final at-bat.

With one out, Ken Wilson stroked a single. It was followed by a John Linhart double to left center field. Rick Daily then came up with a clutch base hit, sending Wilson home and moving Linhart to third. A strike out and South was down to its last out.

While Warrior sophomore Phil Dudak was battling the New Lenox pitcher, Daily took off for second. The throw from the Celtic catcher hand-cuffed the secondbaseman and squirted toward first. Linhart remained on third, despite the screaming of the crowd and instructions of Modica. "When I saw the ball in the dirt, I had Linhart going," said Modica. Linhart's decision paid off.

Dudak fouled the next pitch off and the New Lenox hurler tried to make him strike out on a bad ball. The pitch found the dirt and eluded the Celtic catcher back to the screen. Linhart scored and Daily never slowed down as he rounded third. The toss back to home trying to nail Linhart got away and Daily slid across the plate with the winning run.

"We tried to move people all over the place. We could run before we were behind. It was due or die in that last inning and when Rick (Daily) saw the ball thrown away, he kept going. The kids did it all, though. Hopefully it will get us going and put us on the right track. Maybe it will make them believe in themselves."

The scene at home plate, with the Warriors mobbing Daily, looked like South believes. Daily's effort was only the culmination of a fine total performance. Starting on the mound, he was racked for four runs before being lifted in the fourth, but his contribution with the bat more than made up for it.

He drove in South's first run of the game in the opening inning with a sacrifice, batted out two hits, including a double, scored two runs and drove in another in the thrilling seventh frame. "We really look to Daily for the big hits," said Modica. "But there are other people that will have the able to hit the ball better."

South wasn't so fortunate here Thursday night in its season home opener. Playing good competition is fine, but taking on two state title holders in as many nights is pushing you're luck.

Trojans run behind Indians in triangular
HIGHLAND — Finding that extra something to put the Madison Trojan track team over the hump has been hard to come by in recent days. The Trojans just couldn't handle the Mascoutah Indians in a quadrangular meet here Thursday.
Although Madison chalked up 55 points, which was four better than Jerseyville, 51, and a good distance from host Highland at 36, Mascoutah left a considerable gap as it scored 103 points to win the meet.
The problem of placing first plagued the Trojans once more as they had to run second fiddle behind Mascoutah in a majority of the events. Madison captured only three first place spots and fell short on four other occasions.
Richard Borney of Madison ran to victory in the 400 meter dash with a time of 52.7 seconds. The Trojan's Charles Fuller took a third at 55.3.
The pole vault belonged to Trojan Bernard Harper. He placed first with a vault of seven feet, six inches.
The only other top spot grabbed by Madison was by its mile relay team. The foursome of Fuller, Harper, Borney and Elmer Collins out-distanced the field with a time of 3:41.6.
Second place honors went to the Trojan 400 meter relay squad, finishing behind Mascoutah, the team of Fuller, Borney, Shawn Brown and Tyrone Manzy came in with a time of 45.8 seconds.
The 800 meter relay team also had to take a back seat to the Indians as Trojan's Brown, Manzy, Harper and Tyrone Branch finished at 1:38.0.
Fuller took a second in the 100 meter dash for Madison. His time was 11.7 seconds. Jeff Robertson was final second place finisher as he

The "UNITED WITH PROGRESS" party was warned by individuals who have experienced the kind of campaign that certain members of the Progressive Action Party have previously conducted. They are "masters" at publishing half-truths and attempts to discredit their opposition's top candidates. They will try to shake your confidence in people you have known to be reputable and responsible. You can expect more of this through the remainder of the campaign; possibly by "last minute" publications. Attempts are being made to establish a large Political Power Base throughout the area with a concentrated effort in Nameoki Township. We believe your intelligence is being challenged. ## Criticizes consent law

William L. Kempiners, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health has joined Secretary of State James Edgar and others in criticizing the state's Implied Consent Law as unsuccessful in removing drunk drivers from the roads. Kempiners termed Illinois' current law "ineffective" and "too complicated and intricate to be enforced."

Kempiners was also critical of the law because of "the provisions it contains to protect the drunk driver." In addition, he cited the law's harsh penalties, especially for first offenders, as "counterproductive" in that "they are so stiff they generate sympathy for the drunk driver."

"Many judges and juries," he said, "are reluctant to impose stiff penalties on drunk drivers because most people can relate to the drinking driver. Many people like to have a drink or two and then drive home. But what most people do not realize is that the average blood alcohol content of a person arrested for drunk driving is about .20 percent. To reach this level, a 150-pound person would have to drink at the rate of approximately ten drinks in one hour." In Illinois, a driver is considered as driving under the influence if his blood alcohol content is .10 or higher.

Kempiners said that the harsh penalties contained in the current law also often result in charges being amended to lesser violations which do not affect driving privileges.

"As a result," Kempiners said, "law enforcement officers become discouraged because the two or three hours they must spend with each driver who is stopped for drunk driving, often go for nothing."

Kempiners is calling for a new state law that will contain the following provisions:

- Blood and urine tests, as well as breath tests, to determine whether the driver is under the influence of marijuana or drugs other than alcohol. These tests would be administered at the discretion of the arresting officer.

- A six-month (rather than three-month) suspension of the license of any driver who refuses to take a breath, blood or urine test.

- The admissibility in court, without the consent of the defendant, of the results of chemical analyses made to determine whether the driver was under the influence. (Under the current law, this evidence is admissible only with the consent of the defendant.)

- The admissibility in a legal proceeding of evidence of a driver's refusal to take the breath, blood or urine test. (Under current law, this evidence is not admissible.)

First aid seminar

A lunch-time seminar about the vital basics of first aid will be held Tuesday, April 7 by Health Service at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Rosetta Koonce, coordinator, said the program will familiarize participants with the most up-to-date practices of treating minor injuries. "Most people don't know the best methods for treating burns, choking, frost bite and other emergencies that we're often faced with," she explained. The seminar will meet from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in Room 7 in the University Center and is free of charge. Interested persons should bring a brown bag lunch for the event.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Health Service at SIUE or by calling 618-692-2842.
